

FAQ

Who the heck is Bill Cipher?

Bill Cipher is the main antagonist of the animated kids show, Gravity Falls. Ten years ago, on July 12, 2013, his first episode “Dreamscaperers” came out. And in those ten years, he gave us fanfics that made us cry, memes that made us laugh, and human fanart that made people thirst so hard he became a Tumblr Sexyman. And every time I saw this silly triangle, he made me smile no matter how bad my day was. And that’s why I’m hosting a fanzine for him!

What’s a fanzine?

It’s a magazine made by fans for fans! In this case, artists and writers, known as contributors, come together to make a physical and digital magazine along with merchandise such as charms, stickers, and pins! Our contributors make fanart and fanfic of the zine’s topic, which is Bill Cipher!

I wanna be a contributor! But can minors apply?

This zine is SFW and minors can 100% apply! If you’re a minor and you get accepted, please tell me that you’re a minor.

How many contributor spots are available?

In regards to how many contributors I’m accepting, I will accept 25 artists and 15 writers max! If you’re an artist, submitting merch art is optional, but the main thing is the art for the zine, unless my acceptance email tells you otherwise.

Will contributors get paid?

Contributors won’t get paid in the zine, but any potential profits will be donated to children in Ukraine.

Will this zine be physical or digital?

Both digital and physical zines will be available, along with merch extras such as stickers, charms, pins, and postcards!

If I live overseas, can I still get a physical zine?

If you live outside of the United States, you can still buy a physical zine but you have to pay an additional $10.
