UNIVERSITY OF RHODE ISLAND
YOUR YEAR OF GRADUATION (e.g 2025)

ABSTRACT

Immediately following the Approval Page, each copy of the thesis must contain an abstract which will contain: a) a definite statement of the problem involved in the thesis, b) a description of the methods used in the development of the thesis, c) a summary of the results of the findings reported in the thesis. All the pages have been formatted in the accepted font and margin alignment. This is a simple thesis template that can be used for directly typing in your content. However, if you paste your text into the document, do so with caution as pasting could produce varying results. When directly typing into the title page and signature page, the appropriate information should be filled in the required fonts.

Place a page break (control-enter) at the end of your Abstract to insure you start the next section on a new page. Use section breaks to facilitate different pagination formats as required. The first section, through the Abstract, should have no page numbers. The second section, up to, but not including the body of the work will have page numbers at the bottom center of the page in Roman numerals. The body of the work will have page numbers in Arabic numerals.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The Graduate School strongly recommends that you acknowledge your major professor. The Acknowledgments and the Dedication allow you to formally recognize people who have assisted and inspired you in writing the thesis. This template is best used for directly typing in your content. However, you can paste text into the document, but use caution as pasting can produce varying results. Remember to apply these rules throughout the rest of the document as the breaks have to be preserved to ensure proper formatting.

Continue your Acknowledgments here if you need more than one page.

PREFACE

The PREFACE is optional, but if Manuscript Format is used, there should be a Preface to alert the reader to the format being used. The Preface should explicitly state that Manuscript Format is in use. Please make this statement prominently, as the formatter has to insure it's there. All the pages have been formatted in the accepted font and margin alignment. This is a simple thesis template that can be used for directly typing in your content. However, if you paste your text into the document, do so with caution as pasting could produce varying results. When directly typing into the title page and signature page, the appropriate information should be filled in the required fonts.

Once you have the correct amount of content on the first page, you can then move your cursor onto following page of the template and add the rest of the content of the section by either typing or copying and pasting. Remember to apply these rules throughout the rest of the document as the breaks have to be preserved to ensure proper formatting.

Continue your Preface here if you need more than one page.

CHAPTER 1

INTRODUCTION

These pages are where you type in the title of your chapter and add the body (text, images, etc.) of your thesis. To best preserve the proper formatting and margin alignment, you should do this one chapter at a time. On the title page of the chapter, you can type in the title of your chapter over the placeholder text if necessary. Then, directly under the chapter title, you can begin either typing in or pasting the body of your first chapter.

Once you have the correct amount of content on the first page, you can then move your cursor onto page 2 of the template and add the rest of the content of chapter one by either typing or copying and pasting.

Begin typing or pasting the rest of your chapter 1 text here. This template is best used for directly typing in your content. However, you can paste text into the document, but use caution as pasting can produce varying results.

Continue here.

REVIEW OF LITERATURE

These pages are where you type in the title of your chapter and add the body (text, images, etc.) of your thesis. To best preserve the proper formatting and margin alignment, you should do this one chapter at a time. On the title page of the chapter, you can type in the title of your chapter over the placeholder text if necessary. Then, directly under the chapter title, you can begin either typing in or pasting the body of your first chapter.

Once you have the correct amount of content on the first page, you can then move your cursor onto the next page of the template and add the rest of the content of the chapter by either typing or copying and pasting.

Begin typing or pasting the rest of your chapter 2 text here. This template is best used for directly typing in your content. However, you can paste text into the document, but use caution as pasting can produce varying results.

METHODOLOGY

These pages are where you type in the title of your chapter and add the body (text, images, etc.) of your thesis. To best preserve the proper formatting and margin alignment, you should do this one chapter at a time. On the title page of the chapter, you can type in the title of your chapter over the placeholder text if necessary. Then, directly under the chapter title, you can begin either typing in or pasting the body of your first chapter.

Once you have the correct amount of content on the first page, you can then move your cursor onto the next page of the template and add the rest of the content of the chapter by either typing or copying and pasting.

Begin typing or pasting the rest of your chapter 3 text here. This template is best used for directly typing in your content. However, you can paste text into the document, but use caution as pasting can produce varying results.

FINDINGS

These pages are where you type in the title of your chapter and add the body (text, images, etc.) of your thesis. Once you have the correct amount of content on the first page, you can then move your cursor onto the next page of the template and add the rest of the content of the chapter by either typing or copying and pasting.

Begin typing or pasting the rest of your chapter 5 text here. This template is best used for directly typing in your content. However, you can paste text into the document, but use caution as pasting can produce varying results.

APPENDICES

Begin typing or pasting your appendices here.

BIBLIOGRAPHY

These pages are where you type in the references of your thesis. Every thesis must contain a bibliography which lists all the sources used or consulted in writing the entire thesis and is placed at the very end of the work. The complete citations are arranged alphabetically by last name of the author. Individual citations are not numbered. No abbreviations in titles of published works will be accepted. The full title of a book, journal, website, proceedings, or any other published work must be italicized or underlined. Citations must follow standards set by the Style Manual that the candidate is using. The bibliography for URI theses is not broken into categories. If the department wants a journal style List of References, it is done in addition to the Bibliography. Internet URLs must have date accessed.
