

Tiny Urban Galleries

Supported by a Transformative Public Art grant from the City of Boston Mayor's Office of Arts and Culture

Overview

In 2022, several Tiny Urban Galleries (TUGs) will be deployed in neighborhoods throughout Boston. Over the course of just a few weeks, they'll be the site of small white-walled galleries, pocket-sized theaters, intimate workspaces, and more! Though tiny in scale, they'll have an outsized impact, as they amplify and celebrate Boston's diverse creative community. Learn more about the TUGs project here.

We are currently seeking arts-minded individuals and organizations to join us as TUGS Fellows! As the caretaker of one Tiny Urban Gallery, you'll have the opportunity to showcase your own or your community's creative works, craft programming, curate exhibitions, host performances, and/or pursue any other passion or interest you have in the arts and cultural sector. No experience necessary, and a stipend is provided. Just complete this quick application to get started. Thank you!
