COMMISSION PROCESS

Once you successfully end up getting a slot, expect the whole process to follow these steps:

0. I'll contact you and we'll get through the details.

1. I provide you with a sketch to present the general posing of the character, body shape etc. At this point you can request anything to be changed until the sketch suits your idea perfectly. Since the Calartsification process is tricky, it can take quite a few revisions before the effect is satisfactory for both of us ;).

2. If you accept the final sketch - I expect you to make the payment and once I receive it - I'll start working on the final art..

3. The finished art will be delivered to you whichever way you find suiting. Default one is via my DropBox. I can deliver whichever crops/sizes you wish to receive. I can also provide you with "raw" Gimp file.

4. Calartsificated characters make for a perfect phone wallpapers, so if you want to utilize yours this way, lemme know. I need your phone's screen resolution and if it's AMOLED screen, then it's best to make the background black (saves the battery). For LCD screens - you can choose whichever colour you like the most.

PAYMENT

Payment is generally done with PayPal. For European customers paying in Euro I am accepting SEPA payments, which is the preferable way of paying, since we wouldn't have to deal with PayPal's bullshit. I'll deliver payment information to you directly according to selected payment option.

REFUND

If for any reason I'm unable to have your commision finished, you can ask for a full refund. Refund can also be issued if at some point I decide that further cooperation is futile.

RULES

1. You can submit the final work to your gallery and anywhere you want, just remember to give me a credit.
2. You can do whatever you want with the final work - like cutting icons out of it - it's yours, you paid for it.
3. I'm posting my arts on my tumblr, so if you have tumblr and would like to get credited at my post there - include this information somewhere in the dozens of messages we will certainly exchange while working on your commission. Same rule applies to twitter
4. Private commissions are possible, just remember to mention it somewhere.
5. I can create Calartsificated character from description only, no problem here.
