

The Mystery Loop: A Never-Ending Story

In a small town, I woke up every day trapped in the same chilling reality - reliving the day of my mysterious kidnapping. Unaware that I lie in a coma, I embark on a quest to unmask my captor, only to discover it's none other than myself.

As days blend into an endless cycle of confusion and fear, lead me closer to the truth. One stormy night, as lightning cracks across my room, realization dawns - I am both victim and savior in this intricate dance with destiny. Remarkably, I remember every single repeated day, drawing me closer to uncovering the truth.
