The distance between the image to the paragraph below it is 1x enter.

KESIMPULAN

The results and discussion contain the results of research findings and their discussion in a scientific manner. The conclusion is not a rewrite of the discussion nor is it a summary, but a brief explanation in the form of a whole sentence or in the form of a sequential conclusion. The conclusion must answer the questions and problems of the research. The triangle of consistency (problem-goal-conclusion) must be achieved as an effort to check and check. This section may be supplemented with suggestions or recommendations (optional) containing academic recommendations, tangible follow-ups, or policy implications for conclusions reached. In essence, the conclusion answers the problem or can be in the form of research results or can be supplemented with recommendations.
