

Britta Eschete
WWU Career Services Center
Britta.Eschete@wwu.edu

May 20, 2020

Could you help me...

This is where the person offers their question.

...design a job club for Western Washington University students and alumni?

Share more about...

This is where facilitators ask for more context. View the video to see the conversation at www.cefellows.org/onlineclinic. If you want more context, email the presenter.

"This makes me think of..."

Consider your wide-ranging life experiences, images, metaphors, etc. Let creativity flow!

- Sustainable Connections job board
 - Green Drinks or other networking events in town where people with similar interests can meet informally
-

"You might try..."

Share one at a time. Try to be brief. Include links or contact information as desired.

- setting up a meet and greet at different organizations in town, businesses or nonprofits. The business discusses what it does and people network and learn how different skills can be utilized in non obvious ways.
- speaking with different outreach coordinators for ideas or location/event opportunities

“What struck me...”

The person who offered the question can share reflections here.