

The Three Bears

One day, something bad happened to the three baby bears. It was sunny. Birds chirped happily. Mama bear was sleeping in a cave. The three baby bears woke up and saw their mom sleeping. So, they sneaked into the beautiful forest and wanted to have some fun because they were bored.

Baby Bears walked into the forest and saw a big tree. Two of the bears went deeper into the woods and climbed up to the tree, while the other baby bear, who didn't climb to the tree played with the ball he brought.

Suddenly, the three little bears fell into a trap. It was a net! 'Help me! I'm stuck in a net!' shouted one of them. Sadly, none of his brothers could think of a brilliant idea to save him. Then, he shouted louder and louder, still no use.

Luckily, Mama Bear heard Baby Bears shouting for help. She ran as quickly as possible, and saved her babies. Everyone were relieved. In the end, Baby Bears learnt that when they want to do something alone, they need to ask their parents first. What a happy day!
