

Scholarships for the College Class of '24
(Websites Are Down Below!)

I will also continue updating this list during college as well!

(Feel free to share this with your friends and/or classmates and feel free to make a copy of your own! Oh and I put the newest scholarships I find on top so the oldest ones get pushed down and by newest I mean the most recent ones I've found..they're not in a particular date order, sorry if there's any inconvenience with that. I also wanted to say that I know everyone can't win every scholarship. If I had any control over that everyone would win, but I just wanted to get the information out there and at least give everyone a deserving chance at paying for school.)

Hello! So, if you haven't already seen it or if you have received this document from someone other than me there are also a few scholarship books available on Amazon for high school and college students (so it'll be useful to you there as well). It sections the scholarships off in different categories such as major, ethnicity, the state you live in, hobbies, certain organizations you or your parents may be working for or with, general scholarships, and much more! Pictures of the most recent books are below. I do believe that they make an entirely new book for each calendar year because they have also made one for 2019. The only difference between old books and new books would probably be the addition of new scholarships that just came out and deadline updates for the already existing scholarships in the books. Other than that I believe everything else should be the same. This has helped me ALOT in my search for scholarships (oh and for anyone that doesn't know I am also a 2020 HS senior!!). (Think of this as like a pinned tweet...I will add future scholarships below this)
