

Do you remember all the topics you have learned in this course? Use this checklist to review all the topics from this course and write some examples to confirm you have acquired the language point.

- I can use "no" as a quantifier.

- I can express sufficiency or insufficiency with "enough" and "too".

- I can use adjectives after sense verbs.

- I can use all forms of comparatives.

- I can use all forms of superlatives.

- I can use "this" and "that" as subject and object pronouns.

- I can use singular verb forms with impersonal pronouns "every / any / no / some + body / where / one / thing".

- I can use direct + indirect objects together after ditransitive verbs.

- I can use "when" to join two sentences in the past simple and in the past continuous.

- I can make sentences with the verb "be" and adjectives with verbs in the infinitive.

- I can use "before / after" as a conjunction with complement sentences.

- I can use "so ..." to express results and consequences.

- I can use the definite article "the" correctly with name and geographic locations.

- I can use "May I / we ...?" for polite and formal permission requests.

If you don't remember a topic, that's okay, no worries. You can always review the classes as many times as you want before taking the exam.