Discuss each question out-loud in your group so the instructor knows you were involved in sharing what you thought the answer is, or, what sources you might look up to find the answer. Write with complete sentences, making sure to reiterate enough of the question so you have complete clarity and you are using evidence from the question, the source book and/or website sources. Your typed answer makes it clear you communicated with your team but didn't copy their ideas directly, NOR did you let someone else copy your ideas directly. Discuss the answer with your group enough that you can each have an example or specific details that make your answer original. Every question your group is assigned is completely answered with depth and clarity.
