

Disclaimer

Effective Date: September 12, 2026

Last Updated: September 12, 2026

Transformational Business Mindset Coaching is a division of Engineered Business Solutions LLC.

This Disclaimer explains the nature and limitations of the information, education, coaching, consulting and advisory services provided through our websites, webpages, funnels, emails, digital resources, programs and other offerings.

By accessing our content or using our services, you acknowledge and agree to the limitations described below.

1. Business Coaching, Consulting and Advisory Services

Transformational Business Mindset Coaching provides business coaching, consulting, advisory and educational services intended to support business improvement, leadership, decision-making, mindset development and goal achievement.

Our work may involve exploring areas such as:

- Business strategy and improvement
- Leadership
- Decision-making
- Business operations
- Communication
- Goals and goal achievement
- Mindset and beliefs
- Assumptions and perspectives
- Behavioral and thought patterns
- Personal effectiveness as it relates to business
- Stress, overwhelm and other experiences that may affect business decisions or leadership

Our role is to provide perspective, questions, analysis, education, frameworks and other forms of support.

You remain responsible for your own decisions, actions and implementation.

2. No Guarantee of Business or Financial Results

We do not guarantee that you will achieve a particular business, financial, professional or personal result from using our information or services.

Results may vary significantly from person to person and business to business.

Business outcomes can be affected by many factors, including:

- Your decisions and actions
- Implementation
- Available resources
- Market conditions
- Industry conditions
- Economic conditions
- Existing business systems
- Leadership and management practices
- Employees and other people
- Customers and clients
- Competition
- Timing
- Circumstances outside your control

Any examples, case studies, testimonials or descriptions of previous client experiences are provided to illustrate possibilities or past experiences. They are not guarantees or promises of future results.

3. Educational and Informational Purposes

Information provided through our websites, videos, emails, social media, assessments, worksheets, frameworks, guides, programs and other materials is intended for general educational and informational purposes.

Although we make reasonable efforts to provide useful and thoughtful information, we do not guarantee that all information is complete, current, accurate or appropriate for your particular circumstances.

Information should not be interpreted as individualized professional advice unless expressly stated otherwise in a separate written agreement.

You are responsible for evaluating information in light of your own circumstances and obtaining appropriate professional advice when necessary.

4. Not Legal Advice

Nothing provided by Transformational Business Mindset Coaching or Engineered Business Solutions LLC constitutes legal advice.

We are not attorneys and do not provide legal representation or legal services.

Information relating to contracts, business structure, employment, intellectual property, compliance, disputes, regulations or other legal matters is provided for general educational purposes only.

You should consult a qualified attorney regarding your specific legal circumstances.

5. Not Tax or Accounting Advice

Nothing provided through our websites or services constitutes tax, accounting or bookkeeping advice.

We are not acting as your CPA, tax professional, accountant or other licensed financial professional unless expressly stated in a separate engagement.

Business owners should consult appropriately qualified professionals regarding taxes, accounting, financial reporting and other matters requiring specialized professional expertise.

6. Not Investment or Financial Advice

Our services are not intended to provide investment advice, securities advice, financial planning or individualized recommendations regarding investments or financial products.

We do not recommend that you purchase, sell or hold any particular investment, security or financial product.

Any discussion of money, revenue, profit, business value, financial capacity or related topics is made in the context of business education and decision-making and should not be interpreted as individualized investment or financial advice.

Consult an appropriately qualified financial professional regarding your personal financial or investment decisions.

7. Not Medical or Mental Health Treatment

Transformational Business Mindset Coaching may involve discussion of thoughts, emotions, stress, overwhelm, beliefs, behavioral patterns, self-awareness and other topics related to the human experience.

However, our coaching, consulting and educational services are not medical care, psychotherapy, psychological treatment, psychiatric treatment or other licensed healthcare services.

We do not diagnose, treat or cure mental health conditions, medical conditions or psychological disorders through our coaching or consulting services.

Participation in coaching does not create a doctor-patient, therapist-patient or other healthcare-provider relationship.

If you believe you may have a medical or mental health condition or need professional healthcare, you should consult an appropriately licensed healthcare professional.

If you are experiencing an emergency or believe you may be in immediate danger, contact your local emergency services or an appropriate crisis resource.

8. Psychology-Informed Education

Our work may draw upon concepts from psychology, behavioral science, human development, leadership research and related fields.

References to psychology or psychological concepts are intended to support education, self-awareness and business-related decision-making.

Such references do not mean that our services constitute psychological treatment or that every psychological concept discussed applies to every individual.

Where appropriate, clients should consult qualified professionals for clinical assessment, diagnosis or treatment.

9. Personal Responsibility

Coaching and consulting are collaborative processes.

We may provide observations, questions, perspectives, frameworks, strategies or recommendations, but you retain responsibility for deciding what is appropriate for you and your business.

You are responsible for:

- Evaluating information provided to you
- Making your own business decisions
- Implementing decisions you choose to make
- Obtaining professional advice when appropriate
- Considering the potential risks and consequences of your decisions
- Ensuring that your business complies with applicable laws and regulations

No statement made during coaching or consulting should be understood as removing your responsibility for your own judgment.

10. Individual Circumstances Matter

There is no single strategy, mindset, framework or approach that is appropriate for every person or business.

Recommendations and observations may be based on the information available at the time and may change as additional information becomes available.

You are encouraged to communicate relevant circumstances, limitations and concerns so that discussions can be as useful and appropriate as possible.

However, we cannot know every factor affecting your business or personal circumstances.

11. Testimonials and Examples

Testimonials, reviews, case studies and examples appearing on our websites or in our marketing materials represent the experiences or opinions of the individuals providing them.

Past performance or past client experiences do not guarantee future results.

Where specific results are described, those results should be understood as examples of an individual experience rather than a typical or guaranteed outcome.

Your results may differ.

12. Forward-Looking Statements and Possibilities

Our content may discuss possibilities for business improvement, growth, leadership development, increased efficiency, greater capacity, increased revenue or other potential outcomes.

Statements about what may be possible are not promises that a particular outcome will occur.

Any future-oriented statement should be understood in the context of the uncertainties inherent in business and individual decision-making.

13. Third-Party Information

Our websites, emails, programs and other materials may reference or link to information, products, services, websites or resources provided by third parties.

Such references are provided for convenience or educational purposes and do not necessarily constitute an endorsement or guarantee.

We are not responsible for the accuracy, completeness, availability, security, privacy practices or results associated with third-party information, products or services.

You are responsible for evaluating third-party information before relying on it or purchasing a third-party product or service.

14. External Links and Resources

Our content may include links to websites, tools, platforms, books, articles, videos, organizations or other external resources.

We do not control external websites and are not responsible for changes to their content, availability, policies or practices.

Your use of external websites and services is subject to their own terms and policies.

15. Technology and Online Services

Our websites, funnels, forms, email communications and digital services may depend on third-party technology platforms.

We make reasonable efforts to maintain reliable access to our online services, but we cannot guarantee uninterrupted availability or that technical problems will never occur.

Technical interruptions, internet outages, platform changes, cybersecurity incidents or other circumstances outside our reasonable control may affect availability.

16. No Professional Relationship Unless Expressly Established

Viewing our website, downloading a resource, subscribing to our email communications, watching a video or participating in a free educational experience does not by itself create a coaching, consulting, advisory, attorney-client, accountant-client, therapist-client, doctor-patient or other professional relationship.

A professional relationship is established only when expressly agreed upon through the applicable purchase, enrollment, service agreement or other written arrangement.

17. Confidentiality and Privacy

Our Privacy Policy describes how we collect, use and handle personal information.

While we make reasonable efforts to protect information shared with us, communications through websites, email, forms and other electronic systems may not be completely secure.

Please avoid submitting unnecessary sensitive or confidential information through public forms, website comments or unsecured communications.

18. Use of Artificial Intelligence and Other Technologies

We may use technology, software or artificial intelligence tools in certain aspects of our business operations, content development, research, administration or service delivery.

Where such technology is used, we make reasonable efforts to use it appropriately and review relevant outputs.

Technology-assisted information should not automatically be assumed to be accurate, complete or appropriate for your particular circumstances.

19. Errors and Omissions

We strive to provide accurate and useful information. However, errors, omissions, outdated information or misunderstandings may occasionally occur.

We reserve the right to correct, update or modify information without prior notice.

Nothing on our websites should be relied upon as a substitute for professional advice appropriate to your specific circumstances.

20. Limitation of Responsibility

To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, Engineered Business Solutions LLC, Transformational Business Mindset Coaching, Sharlot Eisentraut and their respective contractors, representatives and service providers are not responsible for decisions, actions, losses or outcomes resulting from your use of information provided through our websites, content, products or services, except where liability cannot legally be excluded.

You are responsible for applying your own judgment and obtaining appropriate professional advice before making decisions involving significant legal, financial, medical, business or other risks.

Nothing in this Disclaimer is intended to exclude or limit any liability that cannot legally be excluded or limited.

21. Changes to This Disclaimer

We may update this Disclaimer from time to time to reflect changes in our business, services, technology, legal requirements or practices.

When changes are made, we will update the "Last Updated" date at the beginning of this page.

We encourage you to review this Disclaimer periodically.

22. Contact

If you have questions about this Disclaimer or the nature of our services, please contact us.
