Subject Line: I have NEVER gotten so many compliments in my life

As i walked down the street i saw men staring at me with dropped jaws,

Young women walked up to me and asked me for my skin care routine

Little did they know i could be their mom(in terms of age)

I remember waking up in the morning and being scared to look in the mirror

Because whenever i managed to look, i saw how wrinkles and black spots had infested my once beautiful face

I tried every single anti ageing product, from creams to serums, which claimed to restore me to my past self

I spent thousands and thousands of dollars on these “cheap” products (which acted more like monthly subscription)

But nothing seemed to work.

On the fateful night, as i layed on my bed, dreaming about how my life was when i was young and attractive

I got a notification on my phone

Fast forward a few days, i became unrecognisable,

I started to get compliments whenever i went out, i got attention from men and got 10 times more matches on tinder

People kept begging me to reveal my secret

I never felt so important and loved in my entire life, not even when I was young.

That one night became the turning point of my life
