SipStreak

Privacy Policy

Effective 5 October 2026 · Applies to the SipStreak: Water Tracker app for Android, published by "deepdivelabs"

At a glance

- Everything you enter stays on your phone. We have no servers that receive it.
- No account or sign-up is needed.
- No ads, no analytics and no tracking.
- We never sell or share your information.
- Reminders are scheduled on your device, not sent from a server.
- Delete everything any time with Settings › Reset all data.

1. Information you enter

SipStreak only works with information you type or tap into the app yourself. All of it is optional except your water logs, which are the point of the app.

Information	Why the app needs it
Your name or nickname (optional)	To greet you and personalise your bottle
Body weight, activity level and typical weather	To suggest a daily water goal during setup
Daily goal, glass size and unit (ml or L)	To track progress toward your goal
Water logs (amount and time of each drink)	To show today's progress, your pace, history and charts
Streaks, badges and bottle styles	To track achievements and unlock skins
Reminder schedule and app preferences	To schedule reminders and apply your theme, sound and haptic settings

The app does not collect your location, contacts, photos, device identifiers, advertising ID or browsing activity.

2. How the app uses it

Your information is used only inside the app, on your device, to provide its features: calculating your goal, showing progress and history, keeping streaks and badges, and scheduling reminders at the times you choose. It is not used for advertising, profiling or any purpose unrelated to the app.

3. Where it is stored

Everything is saved in the app's private storage on your phone. We do not operate servers that receive your data, and we cannot see, access or recover it.
If you have Android backup turned on for your Google account, Android may include SipStreak's app data in your device backup so it can be restored on a new phone. Google handles these backups under its own privacy policy, and you can turn them off in your phone's settings.

4. Permissions

- Notifications – to show the hydration reminders you set up. You can deny or turn this off at any time; the rest of the app keeps working.
- Run at startup – so your scheduled reminders are restored after your phone restarts.
- Vibration – for haptic feedback when you log a drink, if you leave it on.

Reminders are created and delivered locally by your phone. No notification content passes through our servers or anyone else's.

5. Sharing and third parties

We do not sell, rent, share or transfer your information to anyone. SipStreak contains no advertising, analytics or tracking software.
You download the app through Google Play, which is operated by Google under its own terms and privacy policy.

6. Health information

Your body weight and water intake can be considered health-related information. That is one reason SipStreak keeps them on your device only. SipStreak is a wellness app for building a hydration habit. It is not a medical device and does not give medical advice. If a health condition affects how much you should drink, follow your doctor's guidance.

7. Your choices and deletion

- Change your name, goal, glass size and reminder schedule any time in Settings.
- Undo a drink you logged by mistake today.
- Delete all logs, streaks and history with Settings › Reset all data.
- Uninstalling the app removes all of its data from your phone. Data in an Android backup you control is managed through your Google account.

Because we never hold a copy of your data, there is nothing for us to delete on our side.

8. Children

SipStreak is a general wellness app and is not directed at children under 13. We do not knowingly collect personal information from anyone, including children, because the app does not send data to us at all.

9. Security

Your data is protected by Android's app sandbox, which keeps it private to SipStreak. Keep your phone secured with a screen lock to protect it further.

10. Your rights

Depending on where you live, laws such as the GDPR or India's Digital Personal Data Protection Act give you rights to access, correct and delete your personal data. Since your data stays on your phone, you can do all of this directly in the app. If you have a question about your rights, contact us and we will help.

11. Changes to this policy

If we change how SipStreak handles information, for example by adding an optional cloud backup, we will update this page and change the effective date above before the change takes effect. Significant changes will also be noted in the app's release notes.
