

Essay Publication Consent Form

Arguing for Change: A Collection of Essays on 21st-Century School Reform

Editor: Benjamin L. Stewart, PhD

Description: This form is to obtain your consent for the inclusion of your argumentative essay in the collection Arguing for Change: A Collection of Essays on 21st-Century School Reform. Please read the licensing information carefully before signing.

Section 1: Student Information

Full Name: _____

Email Address: _____

Title of Essay to be Published: _____

Section 2: Publication Consent and Licensing Acknowledgment

This publication will be licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial (CC BY-NC 4.0) license.

By granting consent, you acknowledge the following terms:

- Sharing and Adapting: Others are free to copy, redistribute, remix, and build upon your essay.
- Attribution: Any user of your work must give you appropriate credit and link back to the license.
- Non-Commercial Restriction: Commercial use of your essay is strictly prohibited.

Section 3: Statement of Consent

I, _____ (Print Full Name), grant Benjamin L. Stewart, PhD, as Editor, permission to publish my essay in Arguing for Change: A Collection of Essays on 21st-Century School Reform.

Please mark ONE of the following options with an "X":

☐ YES, I consent to the publication of my essay under the CC BY-NC 4.0 license terms as described above.

☐ NO, I do not consent to the publication of my essay.

Student Signature: _____

Date: _____