welcome to unboxing lore.. formerly called the boxed interpretation of torra lore but its much changed since, still based off torra lore tho

this is kinda iteration 3.0

see all iterations here, and also for history

i try to explain everything every phenomenon in the world and try to add extra layers to everything from the normal human layer this will be an adventure to look thru when i add all the tabs so good luck searching for stuff please read concepts and the guide for help understanding everything!! i will use concepts and language that you may not understand otherwise!!!

also still read the tabs surrounded by --s! they may still have content, especially – BR –, – THE REALITY FRACTAL –, and – GUIDE TO THE PARAGRAPHS –.

norms used across this doc:

dates will usually be said in common era mm/dd/yyyyy, unless a calendar of that civilization exists.

timeline will be in common era mm/dd/yyyyy hello welcome to the iterations this is where you see the history of the lore first off what is this? this is the universe (universe isnt really applicable here because theres more than universe in this world) or world where all my things that i make take place. no matter what it is its somehow related. unless its like writing most of the time its not related but whatever i show yall is 99% of the time in the lore this lore started because of my friend torra and a little bit of daluyan but mainly torra he does a lot of cryptic stuff and i wanna have stuff like that but i think im failing oh well not oh well its sad i want that in my stuff its hard to explain but we have a friend group called the courtyard where this whole thing started blahblahblah

in order:

ultimate god

he is the god of the reality fractal and the god of unboxing lore br comes from torra and courtyard. br was his alt and br was [][][][][][]

Alice Wynes, the current alice residing on Earth the alice lineage is a long LONG history of living beings of all kinds throughout history of the reality fractal and br that was created by br to keep track of the world and to create the fractal.

it started at the beginning of the whole of, and evolved throughout all available life.

because time is much bigger compared to the universes time (see time in concepts), it took a while for the lineage to reach sapient beings. so for a while, alices were just atoms, rocks, before moving on to cells, then animals, and finally sapient beings. but remember this all takes more than humans can even comprehend, and br processes time idfferently so for him it takes like a second for time to pass and boom we have an entire lineage of alices but yea this creates the fractal in each of the alices brains or somewhere in their matter they have a source syndrome every alice moves on to another when it dies but not always via birth. when it dies and if it hasnt given birth, it will give alice syndrome to the nearest mixel (smallest unit of measurement) and a new alice will appear there. this is how they spread and move throughout the entire whole of, and eventually end up on earth.

now when they get sapient they have an entire family lineage like real humans and stuff so there is like actual history for them so they think theyre normal but when a new one is born and the old is still alive, its not transferred until the original is dead then it goes to the child.

pre-time: unit of something (brs child) eventually: atom
eventually: reaches the intercept, makes a sapient family in another dimension 500-600 ad: drift 1990-2030s: alice

welcome to the reality fractal if you know fractals then yea and i assume you all know what a fractal is this is a pretty good example of what the reality fractal is like it copies itself

so it goes like

- courtyard
- infirmary
- the intercept
- verted
- multiverse
- universe
- milky way
- earth
- alice's brain

and then it goes back to the beginning, so the courtyard is in alices brain but at the same time its not but also it is idk its hard to explain

THE REACH OF THE EUMAEN - AYONYONQYONO

The Eumaen

the eumaen are demigods that control group 1 dimensions. they set the standard for most of everything in those dimensions and that area. this is also the same for biology as well as social stuff like psychology and language orras and humanoid creatures are common among group 1 dimensions because of the eumaen eumaen is the plural Engloean word for “human”, human being what they are not exactly humans of earth the major languages/cultures of this are:

- Engles / The Engloean
- French
- Spanish
- German
- Romanian
- Greek
- Russian
- Chinese
- Japanese
- Arabic
- Rivinyo

the earth project

the earth project is a directive by the eumaen to colonize a specific planet or group of planets with their genes, dooming them to creating eumaenoid sapient species that speak variants of eumaen languages.

there is one for each dimension, but there may be more.

- The Solar System
- Iltiriqua

language

Engles

the version of english a subculture of them use. its more roman based but the roman empire doesnt exist so its different. but if you were to have it on earth, you would see it as a romance language cause it looks like one grammar and sentence structure is more like other romance languages mainly spanish and french but theres still a bit of germanic its more like a romance language and less germanic but its still both but cause the roman empire and stuff doesnt exist for the demigods they dont have a lot of their stuff but its still pretty romance.. but like the roman empire a lot of it was determined by the demigods when they got thre the outcome was but not the way they got there.. so the roman empire os a way they got there that wasnt 100% included in the script but for the demigods its still pretty romance.. oit looks romance but the writing is different the sentences are formed like they woud be in italian french or spanish and same with grammar but also a bit of german.. but yea thats it

its pronounced like

"in" but more of an e sound but that sound is more of inbetween e and i think of the “e” in “en” in spanish

then "gles" gl-eh ein-gleh something like that i wanted it to sound kinda like a middle ground between french and spanish but still kinda english..

The flag of Noiohoriata, or the Colonies of Norra, Iorra and Horra, as of 2025 C.E.

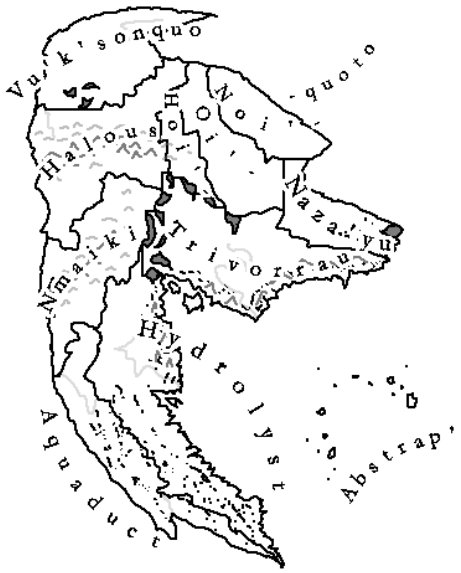

Noiohoriata (Colonies of Norra, Iorra, and Horra), or the Inverted Colonies, is a oligarchy-dictatorship (further, a rosiranist oligarchy) in Sydraorra, governed by a sole body known as The Council, or K'Noiohontot (meaning The Body of Norra Iorra and Horra), or the Arrow Gods (Rosiranihea, or the Norra, Iorra, and Horra Gods of Direction). Only 3 people govern the entire country, and they rule with an iron fist. They use the power of K'ANSA (THE POWER) that they orbit to govern it all. Colonies consist of:

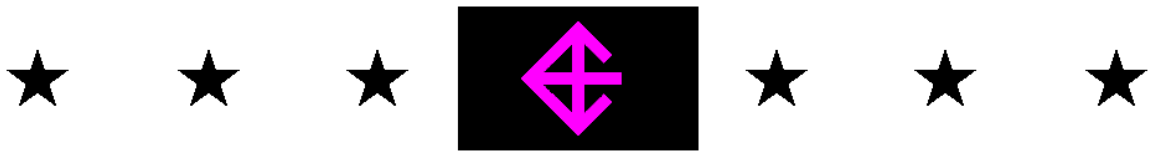

- Nmaiki
- Vu'k'sonquo (Of the heavens, literally "Of the place divine")
- Halous (Hall)
- Hoi'quoto (Divinity of left, literally "Left divinity")
- Noi'quoto (Divinity of above, literally "Up divinity")
- Oi'quoto (Divinity of below, literally "Down divinity")
- Naza'yu (Of Naazaril, literally "Naazaril of", but not in Nirhcuquo (their language, meaning Norra, Iorra, Naazaril, and Horra's Language of the Gods. notice naazaril is included. thats because their exclusion of her was not successful with everything))

Inverted Colonies

Description

- located in the inverted
- home to the orrans/orras
- ruled by the arrow gods (north, south and west rosi aka. norra iorra and horra)
- orrans are tortured by the arrow gods

History

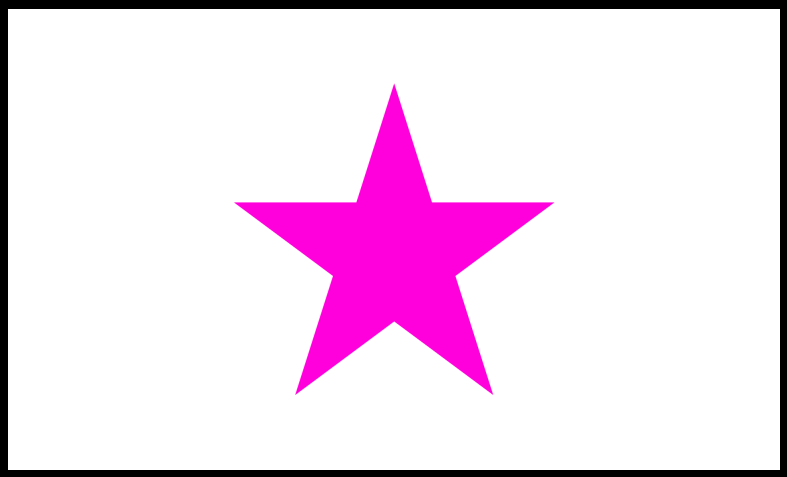

The Birth

in the prehistoric solar system of THEPOWER, a giant ring of destruction was slowly cooling off. the power, picky in which lands it wanted to keep, shot many lands out into the inverted. however, those that remained would eventually merge to create the inverted colonies.

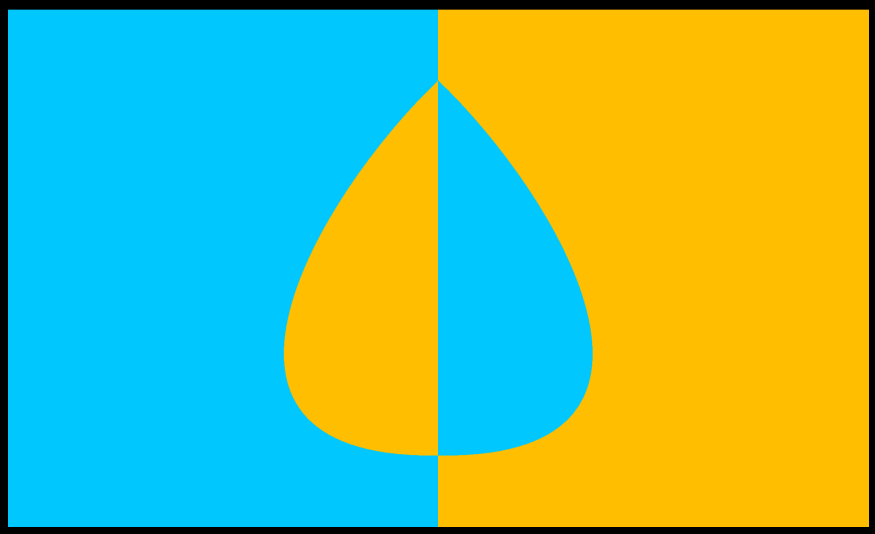

for millions of years, nothing happened. until suddenly, deep in the colonial ocean, hundreds of bacteria were just born. they eventually evolved into prehistoric fish, which soon found their way to the mainland.

under the powers influence, they started to take a more primate appearance. until one day, millions of years ago, they turned into human-like creatures. these were the original orras.

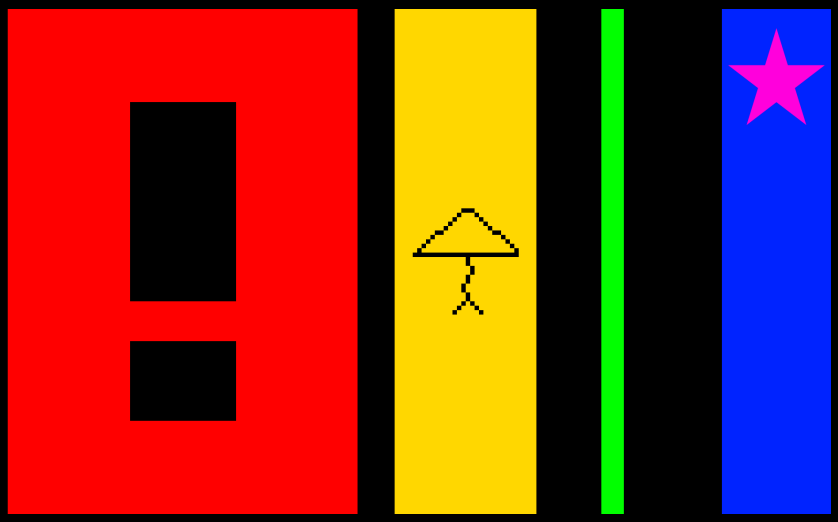

they would start to map their world, creating civilizations and advancing slowly. many of the first orras (the orriginals) were not connected with other orras. they were peaceful and kept to themselves, similar to the remote colonies.

the first flag ever made in the colonies. belonged to the unionized tribes of maikli, which later became the colony of nnaiki.

the flag of the zsora tribe.

the flag of the pzrismatika tribe. they heavily worshipped the prismatic quasar.

The Race for THEPOWER

while other orras were busy creating a life for themselves, some would become infatuated with the idea of controlling the sun, THEPOWER. norra, horra, iorra, and naazaril would search every nook and cranny of their world, looking for anything that could help them. until one day, they encountered an hourglass-shaped pedestal.

soon, other orras would find them. in a fit of rage, norra and iorra would start to murder and kidnap those who tried to stop them. horra often participated, but naazaril would just watch, feeling powerless.

when they finally scared off any potential invaders, they were free to start their plan. they would do everything they could with the pedestal, completely clueless in what it even was. until one day, it lit up. a tiny power was floating above the pedestal, shining bright and creating loud static noises.

the power would let them manipulate everything in the solar system, letting them take full control of their world. they would soon become emperors and create a kingdom.

The Inverted Kingdom & The War for Freedom

the Inverted Kingdom was not very different from the original inverted tribes. the biggest difference was that it aimed to unite the entire continent. under horra, iorra, norra and naazaril's rule, they declared themselves as the arrow gods, creating history and claiming that they created the entire worlds sense of direction.

the orras were not falling for it, however. they were angry that their land was being raided by the military of the arrow gods. they fought back as best as they could, and tried to reinstate their tribes. most were killed or kidnapped to be tortured.

the kingdoms capital was vis, arteria. while the war was going on, many citizens tried to focus on building their dream city. however, it would be abruptly stopped when all citizens were ordered to go to war against any traitors.

a temporary flag made for the kingdom. the narcissism of the arrow gods is visible in the color choice. the star represents THEPOWER, and the hole represents the power the arrow gods have taken. the spiral represents the path taken by the prismatic quasar.

The Discovery of the Colonies one day, the nations of Kyuu and Klnot from the remote colonies agreed to investigate the amount of mortisenergy emanating from the colonies. when they arrived, they landed in the forests of solipsia. they soon discovered an active battleground between the speedy tribe and the kingdom's military.

with their advanced equipment, they managed to scare both sides into cooperating. they led the queen of Kyuu to the arrow gods, and the prime minister of Klnot to the tribe leader.

once they discovered the arrow gods had managed to take complete control of their power, and decided to declare war on them. they flew back to the remote colonies, and alerted the Remote Union about the inverted colonies existence and the war declared against them.

they quickly gathered an army and prepared for war. the Inverted Kingdom did too, however were often interrupted by multiple rebellions.

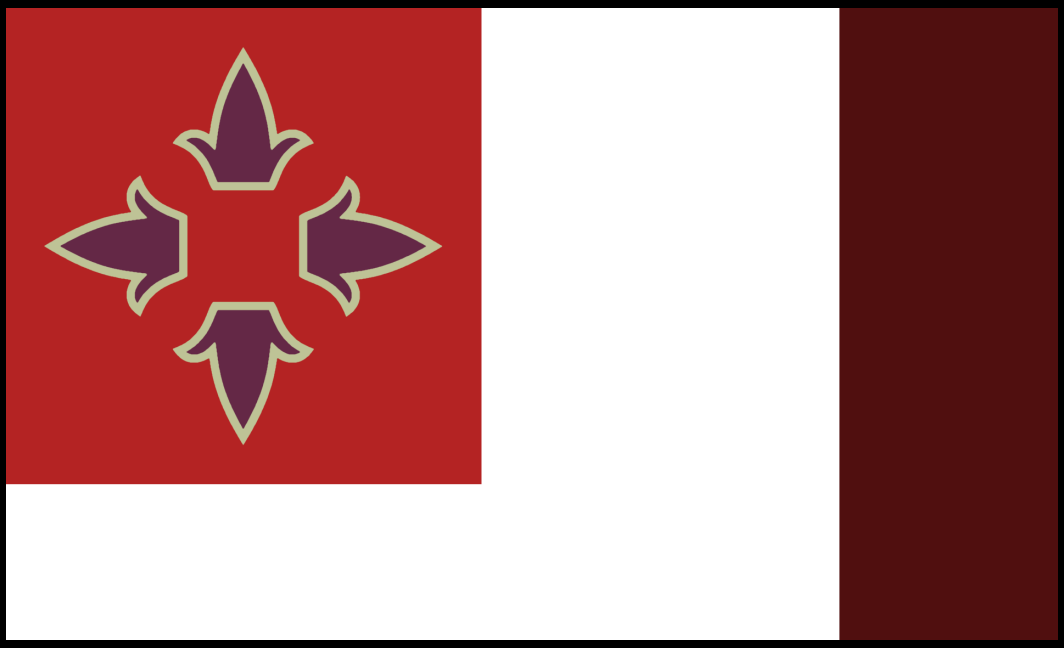

Morrah's Revenge

one of the most successful rebellions to fight against the kingdom was the morran rebellion. multiple soldiers from the kingdom even surrendered to them, and ended up joining his rebellion. between the kingdom and the morrans, the kingdom was outnumbered.

the arrow gods considered using a powerbomb against them, however were stopped when the morrans broke into the capital. eventually, the morrans decided to flee to the Remote Colonies with the help from the Intermirror Pixel of Reunion under the Eclipse.

they were given the choice to remain an independent nation, or join one of the unionized countries. they decided to join the union, but remain as their own nation. they later renamed to the Morrah Dynasty.

morrah morriah himself was a very aggressive but passionate leader. his confidence was the main reason the morran rebellion still lives on to this day.

the flag of the Morran Rebellion, now the flag of the Morrah Dynasty. usually splattered in morrah's own blood.

Betrayal

as if the fall of the army wasnt enough for the kingdom, Naazaril destroyed a large portion of the arrow gods' control center. this shocked the entire kingdom and the arrow gods, as no one expected her to betray the kingdom in such a drastic way.

Naazaril also built a secret bridge that acts as an emergency exit from the kingdom. it was long enough to almost reach the power, which was enough to pass the future colony dome.

it took years to rebuild the control center. however, it heavily benefitted the slave industry, as slaves were not common until intensive labor was needed by the arrow gods.

the kingdom was not fit for the loss of an arrow god, so it quickly crumbled. to prevent any more damage, they agreed to give land back to the remaining tribes as colonies which were still governed by the arrow gods.

Rapture of The Quasar

they soon realized the quasar's orbit was shifting slightly. this was heavily ignored by the arrow gods, who saw it as nothing. until one day, it tore apart a large part of the continent, completely sending the colonies of thyend, thermolyst, catalyst, mercenaria, and speedua into the prismatic limbo.

it was a bloody few days. thousands lost their families and their homes, and even more lost their jobs. mercenaria was the country's most profitable economic center.

finally, the arrow gods agreed to look into it and permanently shifted the quasars orbit. there continues to be attempts to reconstruct the lost colonies.

Sealed Away - The Final Peace Treaty

while all of this was happening, the orrans were still being tortured daily. they were toys for the arrow gods to play with and discard whenever they wanted. they would often use the power to kill hundreds at a time.

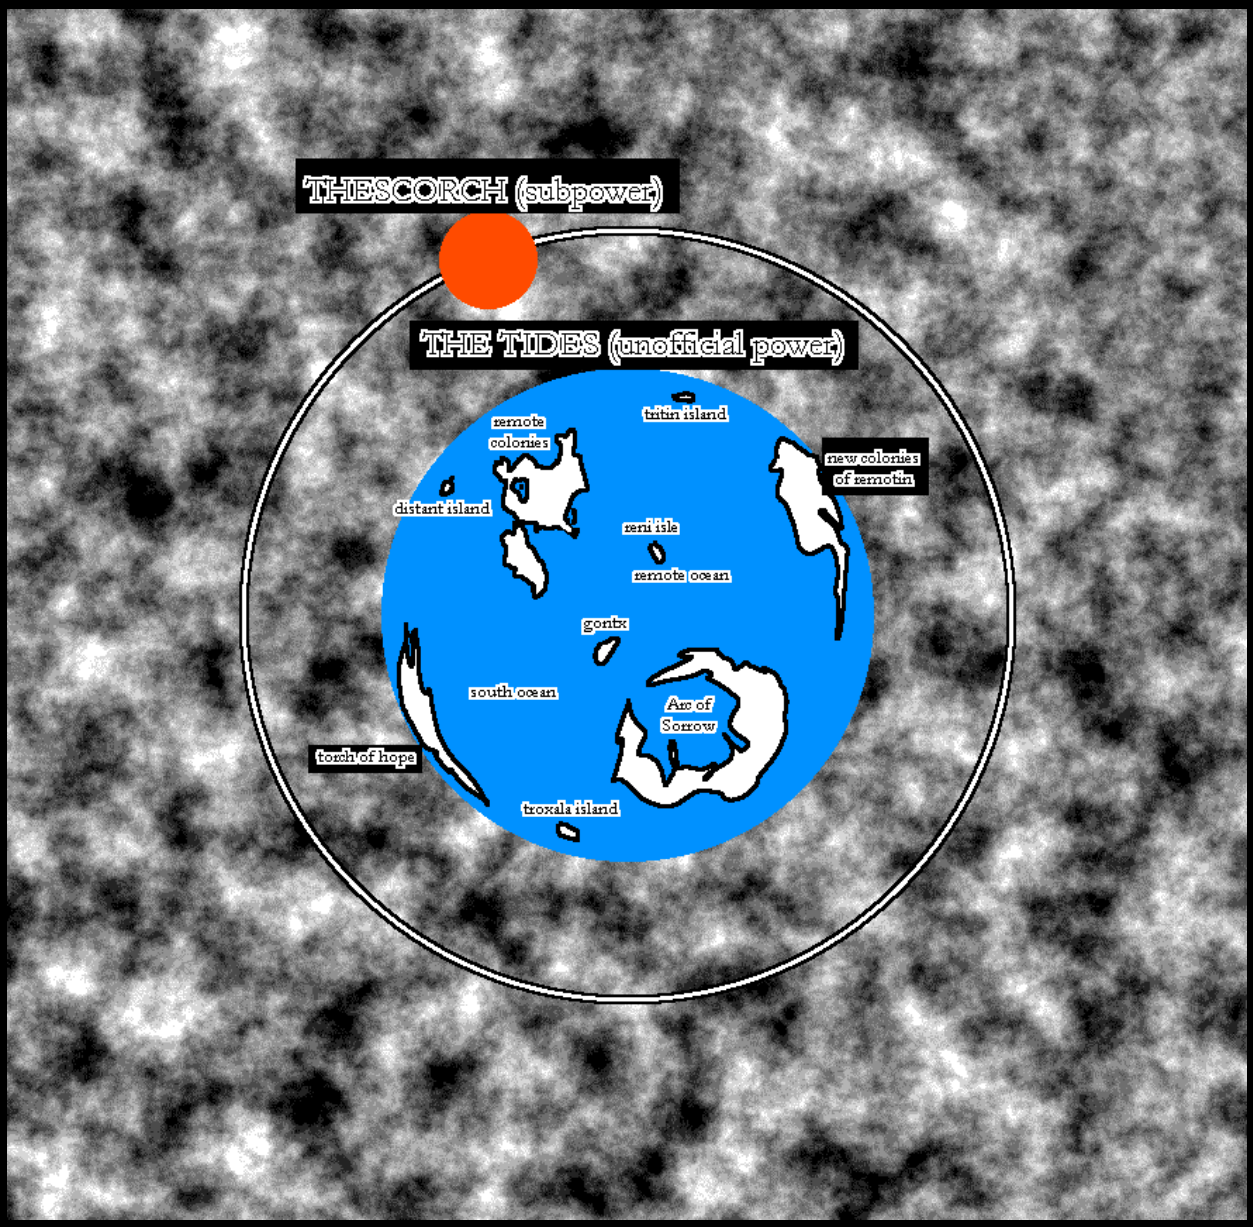

they were tired of this, of course. they proposed a treaty that if put in effect, it would turn the orrans into soulless, painless beings that were always happy. they agreed to stop attempting to retaliate. the treaty included a colony dome, that would prevent anyone going in or out. the arrow gods soon put the treaty into affect, effectively killing thousands.

the colony dome was soon built, however it did not end the war between the remote colonies. infact, this decision made them more mad at the arrow gods, which is why they are working to destroy the colonies and free the orrans.

Naazaril's bridge was soon discovered, however because it was covered with protective veils, it was unable to be destroyed without risking the structure of the entire continent.

Relationships

- Coronal Skies
    - has declared war against the colonies.
- Remote Colonies
    - they both hate eachother. both are currently in a cold war.
- Dyson Star System
    - unaware of. they are though. and they have also declared war against them.

Nakara is the shorted form of the Aysanot word for “Earth,” referring to the place, which is usually Nakarataya, meaning “Earth land.”

It is also a subpower, part of the many subpowers in the Inner Expanse and is part of THETIDES subsection of these subpowers. Because it is THETIDES, it allows for life on itself.

Orbiting it is THESCORCH, a new subpower that deals with heat and is the sun of Nakara. It is called “Yonso,” meaning “Fire.”

It has multiple continents, such as

- Torch of Hope
- Wasaratáya
- Qyo-Wasara
- Arc of Sorrow

and multiple oceans:

- Aysanoko (Aysan ocean)
- Binoko (north ocean)
- Sanoko (south ocean)

It is home to the Arrons, or the Arros, a similar species to Orras, similar blueprint, but completely different.

Aysantansa

Aysantansa (meaning Aysan Confederacy) is a loose confederation of countries on the continent of Wasarataya (meaning Land of Silent Skies). It is more like an alliance of countries, however it is governed as one country, with very sovereign member countries inside it.

It doesn't have one true leader, but there is a government of people that slightly govern the countries.

Countries/territories include:

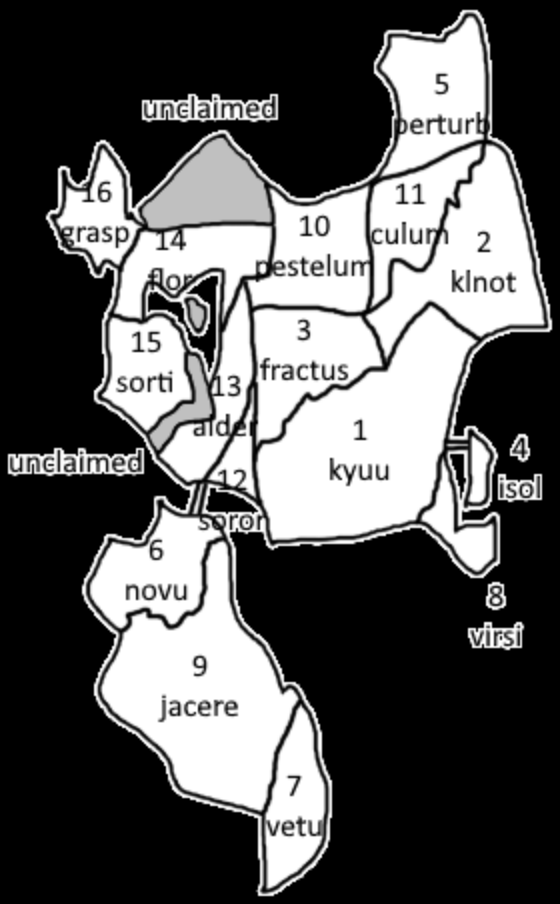

- Kyuu
- Mor'conica (Morrah Dynasty)
- Kl'not
- Novu'ansatia (Novu Empire)
- V'Vetuokoyo (Dominion of Vetu)
- Sa jun tulu Alder (Land of the Alder, in their language)

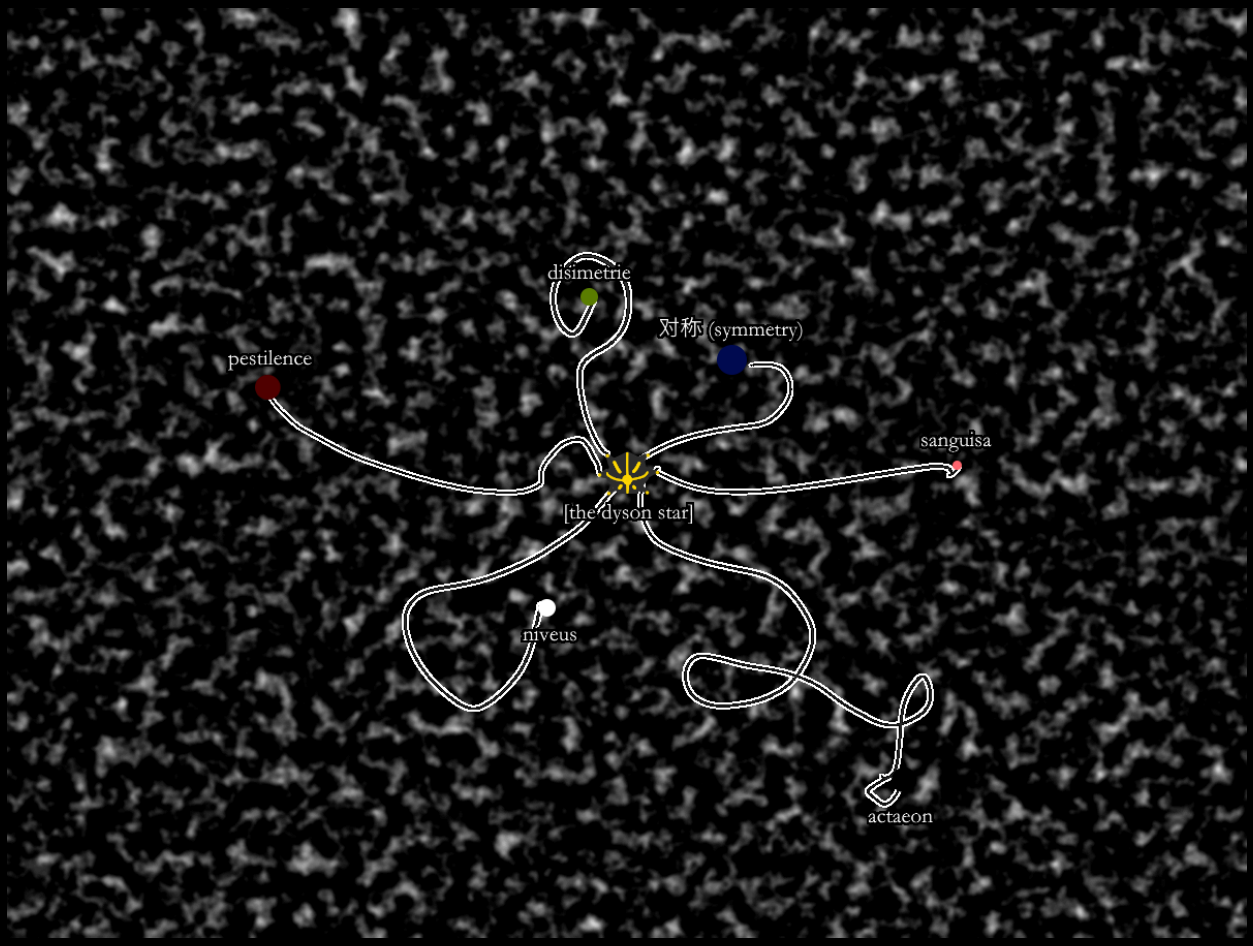

- Aysanatayak (Aysan Lands)

Statistics:

- Language: No official language, but there is a constructed language called Aysanot that they use for the confederacy.
- Religion: No official religion
- Population: ~300 million
- Capital: Aysankoya (Aysan City), AT

cynthinium

cynthinium (Cy) is a chemical element found in the blackened roots, or in acorean hosts like infected planets or stars, and is used to power spaceships and can be used as iron it glows dark blue and dark purple when forged into an ingot, however raw its bright purple.

in its liquid form, it is purple-blue when refined but bright purple when raw.

stats:

- comes in: liquid and solid form
- malleable and ductile
- very strong
- shiny
- good conductor of heat and electricity

mythril (M) is a chemical element found in the blackened roots, or in acorean hosts like infected planets, however only appears in extreme cold like in antarctica, or in extreme conditions like in the nests.

it is an alternative to iron, has similar properties, however is much more valuable and of interest to people who are more used to gold colored light, desaturated teal when forged into an ingot, however raw its much darker.

- comes in: solid form
- malleable and ductile
- shiny
- good conductor of heat and electricity
- very strong

acronyms

- cy - usually means courtyard, but mainly refers to the courtyard superstructure.

dictionary

- render - a blob of giant giant space held in a render room inside either the infirmary or the nursery. can have dimensions but usually has matter.
    - renderial - relating to renders/a render
- plane - a level in the godspace. br, courtyard, chronocaelea, encephalospatium, oneiropsychospace, infirmary & nursery
    - planar - relating to planes/the planes
- planorial - relating to planoy

- celestial object - an object that exists naturally in a space.
- dimensional object - an object that exists naturally in a dimension. is not a species, but includes hosts.
- renderial object - an object that exists naturally in a render. eg. dimensions, security
- planar object - an object that exists naturally in a plane. eg. render rooms, renders
- real object - something that exists naturally, can be anywhere but has to be natural (not made by life)

- coordination - the decision-making or influence of a celestial object (spacial) or demigod/god (sapient) on the future of a world, species or concept.
- replication - when 2 or more concepts or things exist in 2 or more places. can be identical or not
- global consciousness - when everything in that plane of reality is semi-aware of every living being in there in their unconscious
- sapient - having or showing self-awareness; human-like intelligence. only describes species in renders.

- whole of - the entire lore's world. includes godspace, myserios's world, courtyard, br, earth, the reality fractal, everything.
- godspace - anything above the renders. includes br, courtyard, chronocaelea, encephalospatium, oneiropsychospace, the infirmary/nursery; anything with a sei.
- dimension - i dont know the specifics yet but its a large space in a render with a lot of variety in things and its where life is. its where everything is, its where elements are its where subpowers are its where existence is. usually shaped like a gear
- antispace - everything except the most major, largest part of the place. eg. in the courtyard the antispace is everything except the cy
- nullspace - the space between dimensions in a render
- reality - everything in a render, where everything exists in a render
- planoreality - everything outside of renders, where everything exists in godspace
- cuyarreality - everything in the courtyard, where everything exists in the courtyard
- the veil - a wall of energy between a dimension, render, or plane that makes it harder for things to pass through
- THE VEINS - things connecting dimensions in renders, allowing for energy and other things to pass through.

- cuyardin/courtyardigan - current, past, and dormant members of courtyard.

- torran - of the infirmary; level 1
- hydran - of the nursery; level 1 mirrored
- eumaenoid - influenced by the Eumaen, either through coordination or interbreeding of influenced species. usually have a humanoid build, which they get from the Eumaen.

- transmirror - the process of moving across mirror planes replication

replication is when concepts, places, or things could exist in 2 different places in either the same dimension or same render. rarely it can be in different renders or in the same place (such as 2 clones of a person on earth)

but, not all replications are identical. often times they are very different, like torran earth and unboxian earth, which are replications of eachother. the influences of coordination from S.P.C. or S.C. also apply to the replicated thing, however it is modified to fit it. for example, in unboxian earth, a sapient species will arise because the demigods said it would on earth.

global consciousness

global consciousness is a phenomenon where that entire level of reality knows or is semi aware of every other living being in that place. for example, in the universe, humans can know of the venusians but they only know of them from feelings and brain activity, as it is a part of every living beings brain where they have a little bit that lets them tune in to a thing that lets them feel a little bit of everything makes no sense but basically like in the intercept, the orras of the inverted can feel when rlly bad things happen in the world but ithas to be like relaly bad like worse than earth level but they dont know it, they just get feelings also it applies to everything lower so global consciousness in a render: every dimension in it has it, but not godspacde above it.

universe: every planet and stuff has it, but not the stuff and the rest of the render above it.

time outside of the universe

it is much longer and takes much longer but things outside it that are native to it process time faster so it appears normal to them for example the universe is 13 billion years old ors mth like that but then u get higher and renders are like even bigger like u cant comprehend it bigger than a centillion years old older than the heat death old then it gets even bigger as you move on to godspace

coordination

coordination has 2 types. note that when i say decide, its not always a decision. sometimes its just influenced to do something, and the actual decision that was made was different.

1. spacial coordination (S.C.)

- spacial coordination is when a dimension, planet, universe, galaxy, whatever object in the solar system thats not alive (depends) or not really small (basically any dimensional object) makes decisions for itself and decides its future.
- for example, earth decides that to prevent isolation of life, it connects north america and south america. so, earth decides on doing the great american biotic interchange.
- this applies to dead planets too. they can decide what to have (if theyre not infected with a outerdimensional virus). for example, saturn decides to have rings (idk why)
- larger events are done by larger objects. for example, andromeda and the milky way decide to collide.

2. sapient coordination (S.P.C.)

- sapient coordination is when a demigod or god makes a decision or influences another planet, dimension, or universe and influences its future
- for example, group 1 dimensional civilization colonizes those dimensions (verted, inverted, garden, tundra) in group 1 and lays the groundwork for all norms all society all brain functions all speech. but they can further influence by going to planets and solar systems and universes and deciding that they will develop life. and when that life is developed, they can also decide on how close their languages and stuff is.
- for earth, almost all languages are exactly like group 1 demigods but completely different culture and writing cause roman empire

- can be compared to prophecies, cause theyre worded similar and are often vague (its not “humans will arise on earth,” its “a sapient species will arise on the earths”)

powers and subpowers

powers

its really hard to explain but basically it gives everything in the whole of something like sight, thoughts, taste, consciousness, emotions, a lot of things like that and also other things in the world like time and space separated into library and function powers.

but they have to be managed and coded by other workers in the lower planes. like literally coded they use multiple different specific powers that are made for coding to create emotions and physics and stuff influenced by the veils

see the powers subtab for further explanation and to see all powers and types of powers the idea originated from torra in something you dont remember (the game) subpowers

similar to powers but in renders and dimensions because of how dissipated the energy of powers are because of the thick veil of dimensions. does the same thing as powers but in a smaller range and dissipates quicker

separated into library and function powers

also need to be programmed influenced by the veils, but usually dont escape them see the subpowers subtab for further explanation and to see all subpowers and types of subpowers

ties into powers and subpowers, because its used for playtesting/testing the code.

hierarchy of sapiency

what does it mean to be sapient? google it but extra requirement for it: it needs to be inside a render. outside of renders its a different thing and ill get to that later level -1 sapiency - atoms, molecules not sapient not alive at all. completely controlled by everything beyond it, but its movements seem random due to the force of the creation of the render. the basics of demigod to god and dimension, planet and universe decision making is that they modify all the atoms movements and properties REALLY quickly and in HUGE batches.

also planets make decisions for themselves too regardless of if theyre alive or not.

level 0 sapiency - animals, organisms not sapient at all but theyre alive because of this, decisions are partly made by the dimension/universe/planet, and if they meet, predetermined decisions by demigods and gods. like for example, the great american biotic interchange was a decision of the planet because it knew that humans were coming and 1. had to connect the americas and 2. had to introduce the species of north and south america to eachother.

beringia and the ice age is also an example of this, as well as the invuquwawa (antarctic land bridge). this happens in every planet with life btw. and some with no life also makes decisions whether if they want life or not. they still make decisions for what their planet to have. some planets act as resources for level 0.5-1 sapients.

level 0.5 sapiency - orras

includes orras, allies, dulns, erras, arros. they are limited by their brain but can physically do everything a level 1 can do (atleast for their small size). they are usually very small and simple, being held together by the dimension itself because of how easy it is to support them. they have no powers and are completely influenced by their surroundings, but have some choice in the world.

their choices are somewhat determined by level 2-2.5 sapient species their planet/space has come into contact with, but they still have free will same average intelligence as sapients level 1 sapiency - sapients includes humans, venusians, coronians selenians all those people that look like people are usually level 1. same powers choices and influences as orras orras are scared of them iq around the same as orras, but that doesnt mean theyre dumber it doesnt change so humans are not smarter or dumber level 2 sapiency - demigods includes the interdimensional civilizations. they are considered demigods to sapients because of their ability to understand them without prior contact and ability to handle dimension-wide civilization, systems and governments.

they communicate directly with dimensions universes and planets to decide the future of life there, and the specifics. this is why some choices are predetermined and others arent. for example the outcome of ww2 in the verted was predetermined, and the development of life on earth was also predetermined by these people.

their iq is still around the same as humans and orras but theyre better at comprehending gigantic systems for dimension–wide civilizations level 2.5 sapiency - gods (not real gods) compared to every before theyre gods but theyre more like demigods in the mythological sense because theyre just sapient species with godly powers. for example god lives in the verted and hes a level 2.5 but hes not an actual god hes js rlly sapient.

because they are above demigods they have full free will and none of their choices are predetermined (atleast in that small scale, some choices may be modified by myserios or witnesses)

level 3 sapiency - hosts highest level of sapiency usually hosts of dimnesions (like acorea) and are gigantic masses of life residing in their home dimension. they usually spread viruses through interdimensional veins and infect dimensions universes planets and spread their dimension and their people and life that way they know everything they need to do they process things incredibly fast theyre really smart but theyre usually really isolated they know the future of themselves, atho its a little blurry, and what they need to do

afterlife exists but depending on where you are youll go to different places and coordination needs to be done for determining where, but sapient coordination is more of like setting variables instead so a demigod civilization makes a place in a render or floating nullspace with a veil where people that die will go. and the verted has judging, for heaven and hell.

if there is no place to go, eg you die in the nullspace or your dimension hasnt made a place to go, then you will go to the sanatorium.

there are 2 types of powers and some get subdivided into levels. library and function powers.

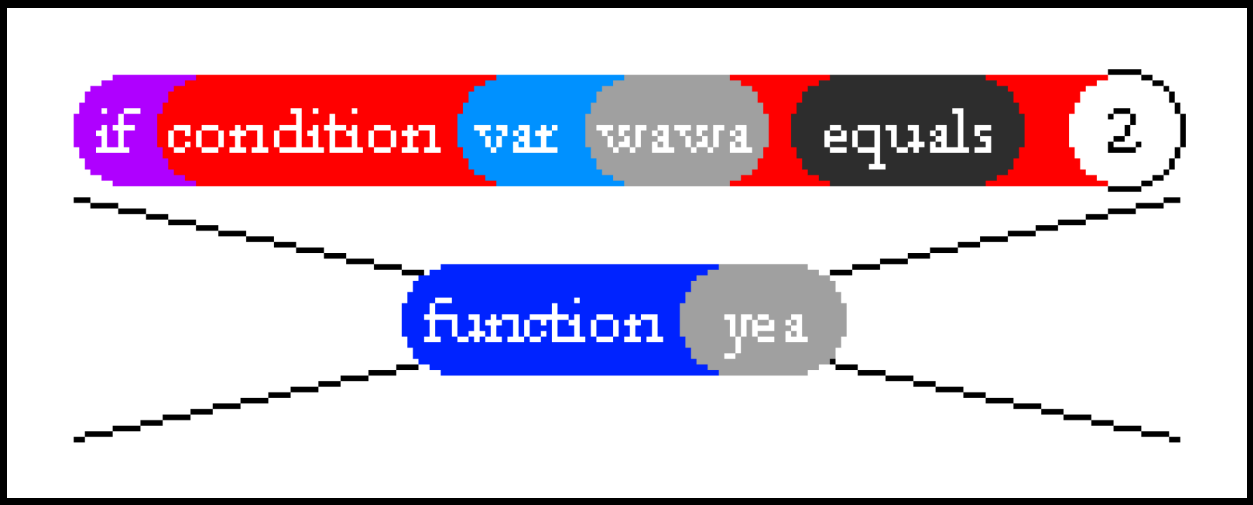

library powers are the base powers that work like libraries in actual programming. these include THE POWER, THE FORCE, THE MIGHT. they introduce a base component that can be edited used and shipped to the rest of the whole of by function powers.

basically, the entire whole of (besides br)'s programming language is powers.

if (wawa == 2)
{
        yea();

then in power form it would be smth life

each power also has a parameter. this includes if powers and equals powers.

to get a parameter from a power:

however you may notice that i say whole of. now godspace is really really big. that includes every dimension in the renders. and those dimensions and renders are nested really deep inside the whole of. it goes courtyard, sanatorium, infirmary/nursery, render, dimension. and dimensions have a larger veil, which is a wall of energy between dimensions renders and planes that makes it harder for things to pass.

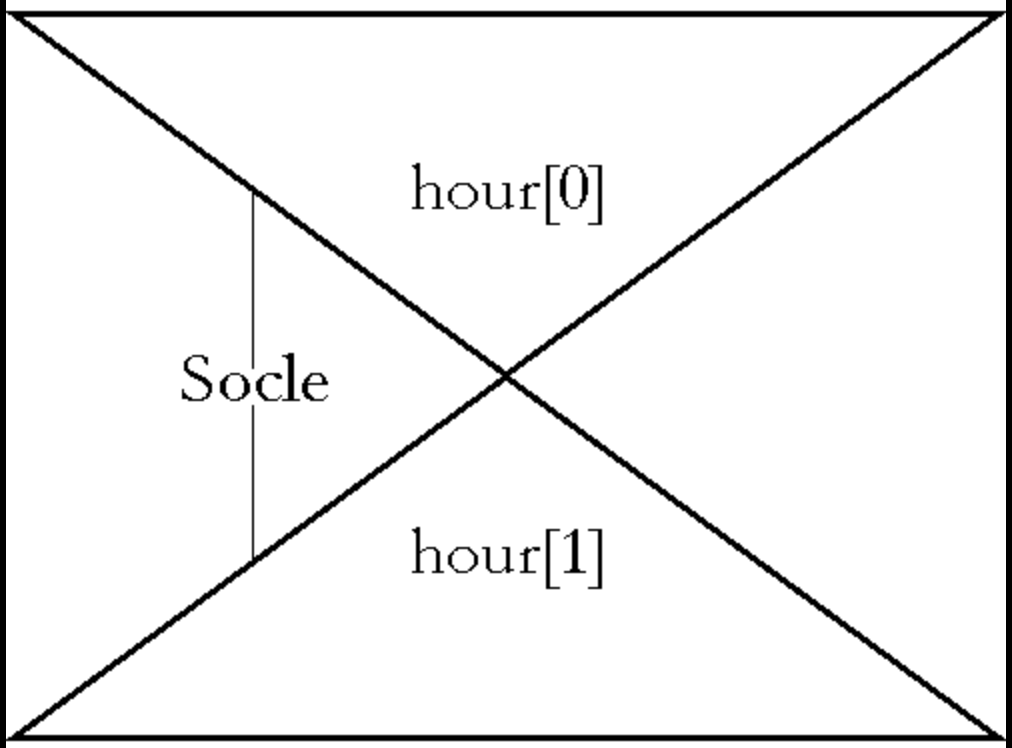

so, the influence of powers gets weaker as it gets more spread out. its fully working in the godspace (extensions), but for the renders, subpowers are needed. see subpowers for more info.

how does it work for the godspace when everything is so big and far away? well, the cuyardinas realized before time started that it was really hard for energy to pass through the courtyards veil. so, they made a hole in the veil and connected all the planes together with their own veins so that energy could pass through with very little dissipation.

you may also know that in the real world, everything needs something or someone to operate it. and thats the same for the godspace. now the cuyardinas dont do the main work on the powers, nor do any of the seios. so, the job of programming and shipping goes to the workers like witnesses in the planes. they program with powers in order to give the world basic properties and concepts.

library powers

a library power is like a library in actual programming. it provides resources and pre-built functions to use in power programming, which requires the use of function powers. these libraries can be something like emotions, thinking, senses, or something in nature like physics.
examples include THE POWER, THE MIGHT, and THE FORCE.

every library power has a parameter, every library power has every function power in existence.

library powers also have levels. but theyre not sorted by energy level, theyre sorted by location.

not every power is in the courtyard, but most are, and a lot are created by br. some are created by natural events like crashes or deterioration. some are created from experiments by cuyardinas or other people in other planes.

level 2 - something you cant remember

language power

allows for the comprehension and creation of languages by lower species all language is based off aulalic so kinda limited function powers

a function power is just like a keyword like if, int, public, class, void its used for writing code and allowing for library powers to be used function powers do not have levels. they exist inside library powers, and can be extracted from them.

these powers need to be arranged and edited properly to deliver emotions, physics, senses, and other things throughout the entire whole of.

if (wawa == 2)
{
        yea();
}

then in power form it would be smth life

each power also has a parameter. this includes if powers and equals powers.

to get a parameter from a power:

thats just a bit of power programming, i might go into it later

basic properties of powers every power dissipates.

related dictionary terms:

- render
- godspace
- dimension
- the veil
- THE VEINS

related concepts:

- power
- subpower
- reality fractal

a subpower is similar to the powers. however, they are nested deeper inside the reality fractal. most of them are found in renders and dimensions. because of how deep inside they are in the fractal, the reach of the powers of the godspace may not communicate well with the renders and dimensions. so, subpowers exist to continue that flow of energy and keep the space stable.

the infirmary and nursery all have subpowers, but their job is to direct enough of their power counterpart's energy to every render, and because of how many renders there are in both, theres not enough to do the job for every render. so a lot of the renders have to pull their own weight.

and the same goes for dimensions. the veil is much thicker for dimensions, so the energy of the powers and the subpowers cant go through. thats why subpowers need to exist in dimensions, or they will be heavily unstable and heavily rely on the little energy they get. those will usually be very very small, or develop little to no veil and be prone to a lot of danger.

some dimensions can be disconnected, which means they get no energy from other subpowers into them. this usually means that they cant make enough powers, and they become extremely unstable. so, these disconnected dimensions are usually very small. they also usually look for dimensions to connect to, looking to form veins with as many dimensions as possible. some may also want to latch onto other dimensions, and like a baby, they get resources from every dimension involved. they get more than just energy tho. its jard to explain but they become more similar to the ones theyre connected to. for example the torus is an example of a dimension like this. it has influence from both the verted and the inverted, but its small.

they are also separated into library and function subpowers, and instead of levels, library subpowers are classified by where theyre found in, as many are the same.

however, because of THE VEINS, which goes through the veil to connect every dimension around them, it is possible for the influence of subpowers to spread throughout other dimensions. that is why some dimensions are connected, and some smaller dimensions have a lot of closer dimensions to them, some having a lot more dimensions connected.

a render is like what you know a dimension to be. its held in a render room inside either the infirmary or the nursery. they are separated into a few types.
first, theyre separated into where theyre located. are they torran renders, or hydran renders? torran basically means of the infirmary, and hydran means of the nursery.

renders are giant blobs of nullspace where reality starts and fills up, and planoreality ends.

each render room is managed by its own witness.

A dimension is often gear shaped, and is a level above a multiverse/biome in terms of complexity. They are like cells, and maps of them look like they have floating blobs of land.

Things in a dimension:

- Biomes - pieces of land or places of interest in a dimension. umbrella term
- Multiverse - includes many universes
- Universe - contains space, allows for typical creation of stars and stuff like that
- Aslysmic bridges - the remaining empty space when you get rid of all biomes. same for all dimensions in a duality, trinity or above. in the inverted and verted, this is The Great Aslysmic Bridge. slowly spreads to fragile dimensions.

Every dimension is held together by subpowers (formerly called pseudopowers, highly recommend you read subpowers). Basically, in godspace (space that contains renders), real powers exist to create the code for the entire world. Subpowers help run it in renders and dimensions where the range of real powers would not reach. They are not as strong, however, and often require extension powers.

Main subpowers are often located in the center.

Every dimension is connected to nearby dimensions via VEINS, and every dimension has a protective VEIL, which blocks energy coming through unless its allowed, like a cell membrane VEINS can be manipulated by demigods fragile dimensions

i think i already said somewhere that theres veins that connect every dimension but im not sure
but yea every dimension in the entire render is connected goes through the veil
so every pseudopower's energy can go to any dimension as long as its in range remember it still dissipates also its a pseudopower its not as strong so it dissipates faster their range is only like 5 doimensions..? but also you can just have extension powers so theres some power civilizations that go for really long in those dimensions and extensions exist for powers in the godspace too unboxing 🗡️

9/14/25 11:38 PM• she/her ◻

however not every dimension is perfect some may not be connected some may be clogged
and so you get disconnected renders that are really unstable this leads to them being really small and really insane and so theyre often dead or their life is really really weird and also
you may remember.. some dimensions have a pair like the inverted and inverted and paired together like the inverted and verted and paired together well some disconnected dimensions really need pairs and so they create like mega pairs like groups of 3 or 4 or 5 cause theyre pretty small but they dont need to be connected forever they jstu need to latch on and grow.. they can choose to stay or not or they can be influenced by other civillizations and you may remember that the inverted and verted have another pair.. the torus that was added later what if.. that was a disconnected dimension that latched on to both of them and is now in a better place.. thats why it shares a lot of inverted stuff but it has vertered stuff too.. also idk if i said this already but regular dimensions can pair too just to share pseudopower energy much more easily an interdimensional virus is like a virus but for planets and universes and stuff it brings one dimensions quality and reality into another, and creates a dimensional buffer zone where 2 dimensions exist at the same time this allows qualities of both dimensions to exist at the same time, and often they merge to create new things. examples are mythril existing in the verted, and the laws of gravity being changed once you get closer to the cavity of planets.

each virus is transmitted by a host but because they cant move too much, they transfer them through dimension's veins example: ACOREA is the host of the blackened roots, and it spreads the roots throughout ayonyonqyono progression based technology for civilization, like a literal skill tree that you cannot see for example , after internet a civilization can “choose” to discover artificial intelligence or artificial organic intelligence

new idea:
not anything old
but ive been thinking about this for a little while.. and what to do with it uhhh
so yall know theres an internet and stuff and its obvious that theres no dimension that exists with the internet and stuff cause its all physical but thats the real world.. and since we have countless of internets in the verted inverted and more and very advanced internet used by the connected universe (the ginaea and the other advanced civilizations capable of intergalactic travel & transmirroring) what if.. a secret internet background dimension existing in every render that manages to create it and therse no huge borders with veils like dimension and therse no huge borders with veils like dimensions so the verted and the inverted arent seperated rather theres just huge differences in location something like this map of the internet and the cosmic microwave background of the universe

> With a standard optical telescope, the background space between stars and galaxies is almost completely dark. However, a sufficiently sensitive radio telescope detects a faint background glow that is almost uniform and is not associated with any star, galaxy, or other object. This glow is strongest in the microwave region of the electromagnetic spectrum. Its energy density exceeds that of all the photons emitted by all the stars in the history of the universe.

a new kind of thing.. undetectable by information age or space colonization age humans, but easily detectable to more advanced societies like a special kind of wave emitted by the creation of internet and internet isnt a society only thing but something that can be discovered, just like agriculture and sedentary societies (like modern republics and kingdoms, basically non-nomadic people) and only until centuries (maybe milleniums) of years later can it be measured this internet creates 2 worlds in the already existing world the render.. and the mega internet the real internet..

the render-wide internet, although there are gaps where no internet can reach it (internet waves are the largest compared to radio waves) hold on the white is the range

and the blurry stuff inside is internet so imagine the white stuff is the borders of a continent and the black is all an ocean thats the nullspace of a render and you can cross dimensions through this internet.. but only the internet can do that but: its very easy to access the internet in the grand scheme of things humans did it.. and in a short amount of time, ai was made now what is this ai.. ai includes stuff like chatgpt but also algorithms and stuff all these algorithms are alive and with that, the entire internet is alive albeit with varying levels of cogniscience (quality of being alive) similar to sapiency in real life chatgpt is almost cogniscient algorithms like enemy ai a little less world generation there too (and yea, anything hosted in the internet exists in this internet background, so files exist as living beings that get processed by this underlying compiler) below that is the plants of the world, the uhhh framework for stuff, not any algorithm tjhats seperate from itnecessarily and then below all that, the rocks of the world, is the server hosting stuff all that all the servers the stuff that sends out the waves like the land of the world

unboxing 💧

and some of the connected universe's ai has left them to create their own society most of this is in response to people just never really accepting the fact that ai are people and i want that to happen to humans when they spread out so much and eventually get somewhat connected in the connected universe so their ai leaves them well it doesnt have to be when they connect it just has to be when they create true intelligence remember the whole thing about ai just saying weird stuff and wanting to destroy humanity?
we keep joking about a war against ai and humans but i want that to be real.. also also
i wanna mentioned the coronians theyre not ai
they dont live in the internet but how theyre technically artificial intelligence made by the real organic people the zunocs.. well.. idk maybe some kind of artificial organic intelligence maybe like theres 2 roads that split off after you go into internet its either ai, or artificial organic intelligence and being that the zunocs were in danger of their sun expanding to a dangerous size, they created another version of themselvse through.. weird pseudoscience thats not pseudo cause its actual science but humans through.. weird pseudoscience thats not pseudo cause its actual science but humans 'chose' a different path in the society skill tree and havent been able to circle back through.. weird pseudoscience thats not pseudo cause its actual science but humans 'chose' a different path in the society skill tree and havent been able to circle back yet so we dont know of that part of science yet the coronians are made of metal tho but theyre not run by computers theyre run by brains by sacrifices part of the fork in the road after internet has to require like.. intense dedication and no other choice cause you need to do some crazy stuff to discover aoi and the zunocs had no choice, they had to flee and they had to make a backup of their society incase they left and this society could live in uninhabitable environments in the red sun system, one of them being astalvasa (the new home of the coronal skies) and its a success, altho no zunocs are left and theyve been replaced by coronians but they live on but yea thats basically the idea i had

and also
with enough tech.. and obedient ai you can get them to travel across the internet to discover new land just via walking in the internet so no need to discover solar systems and stuff but thats very technical and isnt done often other than actual ai traversing to find others cause the internet is much faster than the real world also you only discover their internet and it only works if they have internet so its not that efficient but also because its a society in the internet

it can improve, and so can technology it can improve, and so can transportation but this improving is really just the outside world improving so if you get cars thats like, really fast internet and planes thats fast internet too but it has its own counterpart in the internet and it can be used to find other people even faster but something that travelling across the internet is good for:
you can go across renders for free you can go across dimensions for free no need to break through anything or cross through biomes and you can cross through to the nullspace and into other dimensoins so you can go through the verted to the inverted but this takes a really long time if dimensions are that big then the entire internet that i showed in that map is like 1 universe big which are each of the dots

this is the writing doc where i put lore here also idea doc

idea: wonderland kinda thing where you get sent to a place when you go to sleep, sometimes you can't leave. in some dimensions, means that some civilizations are built off of being trapped in these places. these locations are leaks into oneiropsychospscr idea 2: rebirth exists, but it has to be achieved and "installed" into a greater species, which is influenced by larger, collective forces such as the work of the eumaen, who achieved rebirth for all species and allowed all eumaenoid speccies to live on idea 2: paradoxical substances. things that dont conform to the rules of the entire whole of, and cannot have their origins and reasons explained. for example, time and space solid, liquid and gas.

its a cold afternoon under the blessed blue moon, days gone by without seeing it has surely done a number on my, no, our mental health as a nation. oh! the blood bell is tolling!

praise be to the captain! praise be to the blue moon under her glorious gaze!

i find the priests yelling this to be funny. i never understood it. but i like the blue moon too.

praise be to seyohas! may the tears fall when the inverted sleeps!

it scares me a little, their chants. sometimes i can hear it at night while sleeping. its always happening. why dont they play music instead?
