Legal Notice

Be it known that the Frequency Generator, GB 4000 with MOPA, be used for RESEARCH PURPOSES only and should not be used to diagnose or prescribe treatment of specific diseases according to Government regulations.

And be it known that any function generator should be used for testing and experimental frequency relaxation only and should only be used in accordance with Government regulations.

You may consult your physician before starting your own experiments, but your doctor will probably not know anything about Raymond Royal Rife's method of using a function generator.

Nevertheless, as an American national, you have the legal right to medically treat yourself by common law according to Amendment IX of the U.S. Constitution.

Disclaimer

KE Enterprise, its distributors, Nature's Healing Links, or associates make no claims whatsoever, now or in the future, expressed or implied, nor guarantee any effects or performance whatsoever from using the frequencies in the Frequency Guide. Moreover, KE Enterprise, its distributors, or associates, Nature's Healing Links, LLC are not responsible whatsoever for any problems arising or resulting from the use, abuse, or misuse, intentionally or unintentionally, of any of their products being sold due to any circumstances beyond its reasonable control. Furthermore, any of the products being sold by these are for experimental use only, and any information being disseminated is for experimental purposes only. In any case, these listed companies shall have no other liability.

Users Statement of Understanding

I understand that the biological mechanisms of response from frequencies output by function generators used experimentally are unverified but will employ this information for experimental use only, without any expectation of curing any ailment. Next, I understand that the possible negative physical and/or mental effects unknown to me and/or KE Enterprise and/or Nature's Healing Links, LLC might possibly result from use of function generators. Furthermore, I intend to undertake responsible experimentation and voluntarily accept all responsibility for the application of frequencies from function generators. Moreover, I will not hold KE Enterprise, its distributors and/or associates, Nature's Healing Links LLC responsible for any consequences, harmful or otherwise, that may occur because of the use of this information and experimentation.

In the United States, a frequency generator can be used for investigational purposes such as:

1. Equipment testing
2. For experimental use on all animals
3. To validate the effectiveness of frequencies
4. To balance energy patterns
5. To experiment with energy balancing and the regulation of energy pathways
6. To research frequency effects
7. To experiment with relaxation and alpha entertainment
8. To determine the effectiveness of frequencies on life extensions
9. To observe the metabolic regulation and transfer factors
10. To experiment with modulating these frequencies on Schumann waves
11. To experiment with frequencies on longitudinal, scalar waves
12. As an educational tool in seminars on frequencies, molecular biology, microbiology, etc.

Herx reactions

Use may cause a Herx reaction or a flaring of symptoms. Symptoms may be old (but worse) symptoms or may be totally new symptoms. Examples of common Herx symptoms are increased joint pain, muscle pain, fatigue, nausea, headaches, night sweats, fever, or rashes. Other symptoms may also occur. These symptoms generally may last for a day or more.

The uses above are not intended as medical therapy

I have read this, and I fully understand its contents. I proceed with my own experimental purposes in my attempt to research frequency effects and relaxation entertainment.
