

This is what it will look like when you click on the link from your phone. Say yes to opening it in your google maps application. I recommend you click the follow button so that you don't need to constantly find the link. It will just be in your saved places associated with your google maps account.

The restaurant recommendations are in order of proximity to your location at any given time.

Notice here you will see

- Rating of the restaurant
- Price range
- Distance from you (I'm in Ann Arbor)
- Opening/Closing times
- Personalized notes from your local arrangement chairs

If you click on a restaurant, you'll find more information, including often a menu, you can read specific reviews, and you can find the phone number and website to call ahead, make reservations, or put in an online order.

The most important button here is the "Directions" button.

When you click on directions, it gives you multiple transportation options. For public transit, there is an estimate of the time it will take and the cost. The Q Line is FREE!

When you click on a specific transportation option, you will see information about the route. If you click on the Walk segment, it will show you exactly where to walk on the map. It will also tell you if the bus is on time or late.

If you click on the bus portion, it will give you the next 2 times this bus will arrive on this route, giving you a sense for the frequency of this bus in case you miss it.

If you click on the ride portion of the bus directions, it will tell you all of the stops in between so you know if you are close to your stop or other places where you can catch the same bus.
