1. Introduction

The submitted contribution must be in their final form. The authors are solely and exclusively responsible for editing and formatting their articles. The document you are reading is prepared in the format that should be used in your paper. All communication (acceptance or rejection of the article, other types of communication) will be made solely to the contact Author, identified by default as the person who sent the article. Articles submitted for a double-blind peer review, if accepted for publication, may be sent back to the contact Author for any additions/corrections required.

Each paper should be between 18,000 and 21,000 characters (including spaces), excluding the abstract, title, authors' information, keywords, tables, figures (at least ... and no more than...), footnotes, notes, and references.

The text must be in English.

A maximum of three optional figures are allowed. Images should be included in the text and provided in separate files (JPEG or TIF format) with high resolution (minimum 300 dpi), weighing a maximum of 5 MB each. Image files should be named according to the progressive numbering. The format of the original copy should maintain the 4:3 ratio, corresponding to 1024x768 pixels.

2. Paragraph Title (max 100 characters including spaces)

Bibliography

To write the bibliography and citations, the use of the international APA 7th edition standard (American Psychological Association, 7th ed.) is required (<https://apastyle.apa.org/>). This style ensures consistency and uniformity in the management of sources and the citation of materials used within publications. APA 7 is a style based on the author-date system for bibliographic references. It involves using the author's last name and the publication date of a text.

To verify, organize, and format citations, we suggest using digital tools such as Zotero, Mendeley, or other specific tools for managing bibliographies, to simplify the process and reduce the margin of error.
