

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

December 4, 2019

The Honorable APG_Revival
Speaker of the
House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

Let me be the first to congratulate you on your election as Speaker of the House of Representatives. As a former Speaker myself, I can attest to the bewilderment and enthusiasm one feels upon leading the deliberative chambers of the greatest democracy in the world. It is a position of the utmost respect, and I am sure you have the honor and tenacity to live up to it.

The results of the recent House leadership election were a surprise to all of us - and I'm sure, a surprise to you as well - but a welcome one nonetheless. Throughout the Presidential campaign, I championed a case of multi-partisanship and moderation, and now I welcome this turn of events as a challenge for me to live up to my promises. My hope here is that you too believe in the same ideals and principles.

Regardless of what has happened before, now is not the time for dwelling on the past. The American people have elected a President expecting a break from the status quo and a change in how things are done, and the American people have elected a Congress expecting one that works not necessarily for the President but with the President in good faith. I have never expected a Congress that colludes with me; simply one that collaborates with me.

Mr. Speaker, let's go out and show America what Congress really is capable of.
