3. Post your entry into the 'Painting Competition' channel. (Upload a picture).

I have disabled text in this channel so you will not be able to add a description - this is to try and keep this channel as 'clean' as possible.

Judging

At the start of December 2022 I will select the top 10 entries and then these 10 entries will be judged by my TWITCH community, using channel points as a voting mechanic. Twitch is able to have one redemption per stream per person, so the voting will be cumulative over multiple streams.

FAQ

1. What if I don't watch Twitch much? Won't I be unable to vote? - No, the channel point rewards will be low enough that everyone will be able to vote if you only watch for a very short time.

2. Can I enter something I have already painted? Yes - we don't know when you painted it, but it does need submitting during the submission window.

3. But Andy, you know nothing about painting, why are you picking the top 10? Well, until someone volunteers who does know about painting I'm it. I'm also impartial.
