

Imagine you worked for the Education Department, what would you change?

- Do more practical exercises and avoid “drill” exercises
- Use more practice and less theory
- Change the way of explaining
- Prepare students for their future
- Teach students aspects that can be necessary and useful for their life
- Decrease the amount of hours at school
- Make teachers pass an aptitude/attitude test before hiring them
- Learn other subjects such as sexual and emotional education
- Include psychology classes
- Include soft skills both for teachers and students
- Include more optional subjects to choose what you want to learn
- Specialize us before
- Make exams count less
- Don't put pressure on students with gradings because marks don't reflect person's multiple intelligences
- Include a debate subject
- Add subjects such as economy
- Use “the 6” again
- Change the marks. Find a balance between them (4.7-6.6 isn't the same)
- Value the effort, not the mark
- Use the book and other extra resources (videos...)
- Don't punish with “warnings” . They don't work
- Let students go to the toilet
- Let students use their mobile during the break

-
- ☐ In ESO more culture, in Bach, more content
 - ☐ less and optional homework for people in need
 - ☐ Reduce exams
 - ☐ Use other ways to evaluate (activities, tasks...)
 - ☐ Don't use the same standards for everybody
 - ☐ Award creativity

- ☐ Promote emotional education and critical thinking
- ☐ Value the skill a person has
- ☐ Remove religion and ethics
- ☐ PE not evaluated
- ☐ Promote communication between teachers and departments
- ☐ Add other subjects such as time management...
- ☐ Promote meaningful learning. Not only study and cram to pass an exam.
- ☐ Study Art, music and technology in all levels of ESO
- ☐