

Wendi Friesen - Simply Charming

Some people seem to be able to charm almost every one they meet. You will discover how you can be charming naturally, and expand your wonderful and intriguing qualities that make others love to be near you. Once you find your charm as a natural feeling. You will meet your charm advisors in the imaginary conference room and have a private training on charm from a few very wise and charming people. These people are your panel of experts on charm.