HSO:

SL: My unforgettable first grand triumph

I spent months sitting still, unsure of what to do.

I had studied, but strangely knew nothing.

Not even how to find a client.

But one day, I decided to put an end to this tale.

I started doing outreach and seeking a client.

I aimed for a small sum or working on commissions.

It was the best option since I was a beginner.

And after just a week, a potential client responded.

He said it was okay for him, I just had to write a couple of short-form copies.

We were talking about a low figure, around a hundred, one hundred fifty dollars.

But a miracle happened.

Those copies brought him so much value that he asked me to work with him.

And so, I achieved my first grand and kept going.

The truth is, some get lost during this tough journey.

But this time, I will help you overcome the difficulties and achieve results.

It's time to push the gas.

Ruben.
