 An ikebana class at Reston Community Center in Spring 2021	Through ikebana practices since my childhood, I have had many amazing and empowering moments inspired by the beauty of plants. It is my pleasure sharing that moment. --- Motoko Shimizu has been teaching, demonstrating, exhibiting ikebana, and conducting numerous ikebana workshops in Washington DC, Northern VA and Maryland for the past 25 yrs. She was the ikebana instructor at the Fairfax County (VA) Public Schools' Adult Enrichment Program and currently teaches ikebana at the Fairfax County Enrichment Program in Reston Community Center (VA). As one of the Ikebana International DC Chapter Board Members, she has been organizing an ikebana educational program for children and young adults. She also conducts origami workshops.
