What is Commons?

- New this past summer Button in CV
- Canvas Commons is a new feature that is embedded in our Canvas Learning Management System. Commons is available to instructors only and allows sharing of course resources like files, images, quizzes and modules (and even entire courses!), from course to course and even from institution to institution.
- Instructors can put course materials into Canvas and share them within their department, Keene State College as a whole, or even with all Canvas users at all Canvas schools worldwide!
- When uploading materials to share, instructors can choose the license that is appropriate, add search terms, and direct it to the most appropriate audience.
- With Commons you can:
 - create a personal learning object repository
 - Build a course from scratch (or update your current courses) with relevant materials shared by other Canvas users
 - Create a name for yourself and your institution as a subject matter expert

Demo

Show button in CV -- moving to the left nav

Go to Commons = grand tour

Show various places - where to share a module, page, entire course (settings)

Share something from one of my courses, have them import it into one of theirs.

Keene / HLSC Canvas Commons

There's no way to talk about using or sharing without talking about useage rights, copyrights and licensing.

Choosing licensing

Activity,,, actually share something, and import something -- save to all KSC

Give faculty 15 minutes Ellen, Rose, jeanelle???
