

Weekly Digital Deals are special coupons offered in the Kroger app or website that give you a special sale price when clipping the coupon, and can be used up to five times in one transaction. These are Kroger store coupons, meaning you can combine these deals with manufacturer coupons and rebates for even more savings! These are the best deals for this week!

NOTE: Not all digital coupons are store coupons. This is important because if it is a manufacturer coupon, you cannot combine another coupon with it.

BOGO Deals

Buy one, get one free sales happen one of two ways at different Kroger stores. At some stores, it means exactly what it says – buy one at full price, the second rings up at zero. At other stores, you only have to buy ONE and it just rings up 50% off. The way you can tell is if you look up the item in the Kroger app. If it says “Buy One, Get One Free”, you have to get (2); however, if it just shows the price half off, you only have to buy (1).

This makes a difference because you can't use a coupon on an item that rings up for free, and if you have a coupon off just 1 item, you'll do even better than if you have to buy 1 full price to get a second one free. BOTH ways though, you can get insane deals.

Keep in mind if it is a deal like “Buy 2 Get 1 Free” or “Buy 2 Get 3 Free”, all stores will follow those sales the same – you actually have to buy 2 to get 1 free. The difference is only on Buy (1), Get (1) free deals.

- Maruchan Yakisoba Bowls, $1.49 BOGO
 - If Half Price Store, one rings up at .75 – Buy (2) = $1.49
 - Use $1 off 2 Digital Coupon
