living is a sin (b.zdan)

Do you care about the afterlife
Don you think of where you'll go I will be the dirt again, will be home?
what does it matter anyways you won't be with me then but sure you can hypothesize what happens in the end Will there be angels waiting they've got other shit to do do I need to be forgiven to just pass through or will I be passed over like a forgotten little child messed up by the forces to great to understand
I don't believe in heaven
I don't believe in hell
and i don't think one man can save me
how can we be judged for just trying to live
if to live is to just get by then living is a sin
what if these great forces are just a chemical exchange between nerves, cells and endings made to look a certain way we'll never have the answers whey do we even try to locate the magic behind each others eyes but we can't go on living unless we tell ourselves lies we need something to believe in ,a convincing disguise.
I don't believe in heaven
I don't believe in hell
and i don't think one man can save me
how can we be judged for just trying to live
if to live is to just get by then living is a sin
where did you go that day? Back to the earth or up in the sky
We are the ones left here to suffer and say goodbye
You were one of the good ones as I think we all are Fighting a good fight looking up to the stars
And If I am to remain here How hard should I try To get up and out from the darkness
To crawl up from the well Lonely is a choice I won't continue to make One foot in front of the other is good enough for today
I don't believe in heaven
how can we be judged for just trying to live
if to live is to just get by then living is a sin

T-shirt (complete)

What's a look from the book
What's your flavor today
Tear it up
Tell me what you wanna say
Do you know any chords on that guitar
I know you only shoot for the stars

Hey- where's that t-shirt from Hey - can you name one song
Hey- can you sing along

You want the best you want it fast
And you're willing to pay
A quick mix how you gonna fix it

If this is it I think I'm gonna pass
Better make it good if you want it to last

Hey- where's that t-shirt from

B
You can hide
But I can see it
Can you feel it
Do you believe it

Hey- where's that t-shirt from
