

(TK's Notes: I mostly like it but I do have some thoughts. I think the opening is a bit weak, and think that even though some scenes would need to be changed, seeing Owen witness the hatching raptor squad would be a better opening than Wu and Masrani having a conversation. If the scene with the baryonyx could also be slightly more realistic I think it would go a long way, maybe have it take place on a boat instead? Then perhaps it would be best to move the boat scene with the bary before the conversation between Wu and Masrani. Also is this still in Lego or in live action? Because if it's the latter we should probably shouldn't have the Gyrosphere getting knocked around like a pinball.)

(Emperor nerd response: okay yeah boat be better you can edit that scene but as the eggs, I was thinking of it be the finally more less. It supposed to be live action main reason I kept pin ball part is because it could be used as more less an over-exaggeration or metaphor which is commonly used in writing but I can see how it could be misleading)

The film starts in the Isla Sorna sea on May 23, 2012. A boat is carrying three dinosaurs for Masrani's secret new exhibit, 3 Baryonyx, Grim, Limbo and Chaos. The captain of the ship hopes the safety restraints on the cage hold because the storm is rough. Claire calls back and asks Owen what's going on. Owen introduces himself to Claire through the phone and explains he's the man she hired to bring in the dinosaurs from Isla Sorna, but he didn't realize it was going to be through a freak storm. Suddenly, one of the safety restraints falls off. Claire hears one of the crew blurt out that the dinosaurs are growing more rowdy and wonders what the crew said, but Owen tells her to not worry and then the phone falls out of the boat and into the ocean. The captain explains to Owen the storm weakened the safety restraints and the cage could break apart releasing the dinosaurs. Owen however decides to save the day. Owen finds and opens a box and finds a spare safety cable, just as the second restraint falls off. Owen quickly heads to the cage. He then climbs up to the top of the cage, before Grim the Baryonyx tries to slash at him with its namesake claw. Owen barely dodges and climbs the cage attaching the safety restraint, however the other side of the cage is still weak and all three of them break out of the cage. The Baryonyx begins to try and push the cage overboard, Grady barely clinging on. Suddenly the roar of thunder scares the Baryonyx who backs away, Owen then feels bad for the scared predators and begins to calm them down. They begin to back into the cage, he closes the door just as a crewmember attaches the second safety restraint, the boat gets thrown around by the rough waters before the captain seemingly regains control again then the storm begins to clear up as the boat arrives on Isla Nublar.

Just after breakfast. Henry Wu was talking about his first-ever hybrid dinosaur, but Simon Masrani declared it "ugly". Masrani explains Jurassic World is exciting because people would want something new, unexpected, and "beautiful". Masrani wants Dr. Wu to support his ideas but is then interrupted by Claire Dearing. Claire explains there is a slight problem that she's sure will be fine. Claire then mentions that the cargo ship bringing in dinosaurs from Isla Sorna is late. Masrani gets shocked and explains the three dinosaurs are for the park's new surprise exhibit. Dr. Wu wasn't aware of a new exhibit, but Masrani tells him it's because it's a secret surprise, and the greatest idea he ever came up with outside of investing in Jurassic World and as well says that the three dinosaurs are to insure that Jurassic World is at the four front of Theme Park entertainment for the next century. Claire suggests they should postpone but Masrani tells Claire to calm down and relax and to give them more time. Masrani explains to Claire it's his job to make Jurassic World a reality, and it will be the greatest achievement of science. He then explains if she can't have trust or faith in their staff and that they know what they're doing, then maybe she's not cut out being the assistant manager of park operations. Claire then leaves the lab as Masrani says that's called leadership.

Some time later in the lab, a scientist named Allison Miles was showing Dr. Wu how they can develop genes with new properties. She then asks Masrani what he thinks, and Masrani seemed somewhat uneasy about the idea knowing how badly the hybrid went. Dr. Wu presumes this ain't good and believes they're finished if he doesn't like their ideas. While having a conversation Allison asks, "What does he want us to do, bake cookies?". At the dock, the helicopter arrives with the three Baryonyx in the cage. Owen climbs down from the cage telling the ACU Soldiers the dinosaurs they ordered have arrived. Owen tells them to put the dinos into a truck and then they will be at their destination faster than they can say "Micropachycephalosaurus". Owen starts calming down the barys using fish and skills that help with birds and reptiles Vic Hoskins shows up from behind him telling him he has a real way with those dinosaurs. Owen introduces himself to Hoskins and Hoskins sees the three dinosaurs that were brought in from Isla Sorna. Hoskins then explains the animals are meant to be dominated and it's important they know who's boss, and once they do they'll follow people around like puppies. This reminds Hoskins that there were supposed to be some raptor eggs that would be hatched soon in the new raptor cage. Owen then asks him to point him to Claire Dearing as he needs to get his paycheck. Owen walks up to a truck and sees Claire. As soon as he sees her, he puts a wide look on his face seeing how beautiful she is, and says "Wow.". Claire asks him if his name is wow in a sarcastic tone, but Owen tells her it's not and introduces himself to her and he just delivered the dinosaurs to the island. Claire was glad to hear they arrived, and Owen says he'd love to stay and chat, but he has to get back to Costa Rica for a party just as soon as she gives him his paycheck. But Claire tells Owen he'll get paid as soon as the job is done. Owen wonders what Claire meant as the dinosaurs were already delivered and he has just been through a rough storm and he and the crew deserve some danger pay bonus. Claire then tells Owen the dinosaurs must be delivered to their exhibit which is on the other side of Isla Nublar, so if he wants his money he'll need to get a move on and seriously. Claire then tells Owen he can follow her in the truck and she has to make a quick stop at Gyrosphere Valley, but they might make it to the exhibit before nightfall if they hurry. Owen was disgusted saying this is why you'll always get paid upfront. He then heads off to the truck to follow CLaire in.

At the Raptor Enclosure, Hoskins watches over the raptor eggs and thinks about the IBRIS Project and being able to train raptors, but if they wouldn't follow orders. Hoskins figured he would have to make sure to establish some more dominance.

Meanwhile, at Gyrosphere Valley, the trucks arrive with a Gyrosphere and the dinosaurs for Masrani's exhibit. Claire announces through a megaphone to all the people that they will soon load up the Gyrosphere. Meanwhile, a little boy and his mother arrive. The boy was wanting to ride the Gyrosphere, and his mom tells him to be patient. But he won't be patient and lets go of his mom's hand and run to the Gyrosphere on the truck. Owen sees the boy running to the Gyrosphere while Claire was explaining to the people the park was all John Hammond's dream. While the Soldiers weren't looking and the little boy's mom wasn't noticing, the little boy climbs into the Gyrosphere. Owen was the only one noticing and the boy activates the Gyrosphere just when Owen tries to tell him he doesn't think he should be doing that. But the boy drives the Gyrosphere off the truck and drives it around. The Gyrosphere with the boy in it then drives right into Gyrosphere Valley and the boy was starting to have the time of his life. Since Claire didn't notice but Owen did, they quickly rush to a small Jeep. Owen then quickly drives the Jeep into the valley. Claire then turns around and sees Owen not there and says, "Talk about rude.". In the valley, Owen drives the Jeep after the Gyrosphere with the boy in it, while Claire decides to deliver the dinosaurs herself, she gets into the truck and drives off to deliver the dinosaurs to the exhibit. Owen tries to get closer to the Gyrosphere but sees a bunch of Apatosaurus up ahead. The Gyrosphere then hits and gets tossed and pushed around by each one while Owen keeps driving after it. The Gyrosphere and the Jeep then enter a herd of Triceratops, but the boy was having so much fun in the Gyrosphere. The Gyrosphere then bounces off a rock and starts to crack, Owen notices it and starts to drive the Jeep through the Triceratops herd. They then begin to turn and the last Triceratops hits the Gyrosphere with its tail causing it to bounce into a forest with the boy still in it. Owen continues driving after the boy. While still chasing after him, Owen hits a few branches while driving. Just then, a piece of the Gyrosphere comes off and almost hits Owen but he manages to avoid it. Owen manages to get caught up to the boy in the Gyrosphere and tries to reach for him, but then Owen notices he and the boy are heading towards a cliff.

the Gyrosphere with the boy in it and the Jeep driving by Owen were getting closer to it. Owen then jumps off the Jeep and into the Gyrosphere Owen throws the boy out of it and the boy lands on the ground. The boy gets disgusted as Owen threw him out of the Gyrosphere saying he wasn't done yet and wants to tell his mother, but says your welcome to him. Owen then looks forward and sees the cliff and the Gyrosphere goes over it. As the Gyrosphere falls with Owen in it, it then gets caught onto a branch. Owen quickly climbs out of the Gyrosphere and grabs onto the branch as the Gyrosphere falls and breaks into pieces when it hits the ground below. Owen starts to hang from the branch. Owen calls out hello, hoping to be saved. Nearby, Owen sees the top of the cliff isn't far, but then feels the ground trembling. He looks down and sees a T-Rex come out of the forest. The T-Rex then jumps up and tries to eat Owen. the T. rex keeps trying to eat him. Owen then sees a vine getting lowered down to him. The branch breaks off and Owen falls but grabs the vine just in time, just as the pieces of the branch land onto the T. rex's head irritating it and then it roars at Owen, but then an ACU soldier pulls Owen back up to the top of the cliff before the T. rex could eat him then a helicopter arrives.

After the helicopter lands, Hoskins comes out. Hoskins asks what does he need to zap in a joking manner, but Owen explains he doesn't have anything to zap, but explains about the boy that took the Gyrosphere for a joy ride but beyond that, it's handled. Owen boards the helicopter with him. The helicopter takes off leaving the ACU Soldier that was on it behind and Hoskins asks Owen if he ever thought about coming on board full-time to use some dinosaur training abilities. Owen wasn't sure, as he was only on the island for half an hour and had to take a boat through a storm, had dinosaurs try to eat him, and then was thrown off a cliff. Owen then looks down and notices Claire took the truck with the dinosaurs for Masrani's exhibit, which means he's now out of a paycheck. Owen then explains he needs something great to keep him on the island, and right now he just doesn't see it. But Hoskins then tells him you never know, as Jurassic World could be his destiny. As the helicopter with Owen, and Hoskins in it flies over the valley.