

Tottenham's captain, Son Heung-min, was ranked 12th in the global soccer player rankings by the British media.

British media outlet Give Me Sports recently named Son Heung-min the 12th player by announcing the 15 best soccer players in 2024, which it has evaluated for his performance in the past 12 months.

It is the only Asian player to be listed in the top 15, and Al Nasr's Cristiano Ronaldo, who Son Heung-min considered an idol, is ranked 13th.

Manchester City's Holan was ranked No. 1 by the media, followed by Lionel Messi, the "football emperor" who plays for Inter Miami, and Bellingham of Real Madrid.
