

Job opportunity: App development

Hi everyone, my name is Elyse, I am the Founder and CEO of PRO ATHLETE - an app aiming to prevent youth sports injuries and enhance performance.

We're looking for a motivated developer with strong technical expertise to help us build and scale our web & mobile platform. This would be a part time position, to start ASAP.

You'll work on:

- Designing and implementing new app features (training plans, data analytics, UX)
- Building and maintaining iOS, Android, and web applications using React/React Native
- Integrating APIs, databases, and cloud services (e.g., Firebase, AWS)
- Optimizing performance and supporting scalability as we grow

Your experience:

- Proven experience developing cross-platform apps (iOS, Android, web) with React/React Native
- Strong knowledge of cloud services and database integrations
- Ability to work independently and deliver high-quality code in a small, agile team

Bonus:

- Experience with sports, athletic training, or performance technology is a plus but not required
- Bilingual (French, English)

✉ Interested? Send a short intro and portfolio/GitHub to elyse@proathlete.ca
Feel free to share with your network. Thank you so much!