

DEI questions – Phase 2 (Latin America)

- 1- What is your understanding of a 'diverse, equitable and inclusive community'?
- 2- What is needed to foster a DEI community of practice and/or research?
- 3- Do you know of any open research communities? What do you think are their benefits?
- 4- What are the barriers to achieve such a community?
- 5- What is needed to overcome these barriers or obstacles?
- 6- Do you think support is needed in the Global South, particularly in Latin and Central America, for PhD researchers/early career researchers in Open Education? What should this support look like?
- 7- How do we amplify the voices of researchers in Latin America?
- 8- What aspects are being overseen/taken for granted?
- 9- What existing structure or practices need to be challenged?
- 10- Can a DEI community operate in the open? In which way?
- 11- In your opinion, how should GO-GN guidelines for DEI look like? What would be the most effective ways of communicating the existence of open research communities such as GO-GN in your country? What strategies are needed to raise awareness?

Licensed under Creative Commons -Attribution 4.0 International -CC BY 4.0