Profession/Role:

Guard (2 years)

---

Species:

Merman

Main powers and Abilities:

- He has your normal Mermaid sort of abilities, you know, like being able to speak to different types of animals and shit.
- His Fins are covered in tiny venom spikes, if you were to touch them then you would get this powerful stinging feeling. It's not enough to kill a grown person, but it could really cause some pain throughout the area that has been stung.
- His claws are also filled with a venom like substance, which could give the same reaction, if not worse, if he were to scratch someone.
- Another thing he can do is glow in the dark. Though it's more just for show, if he really needed to he can stop glowing.
- He also knows how to wield a fuKCING sword, so WatCH it.

Accessories and Clothes:

He normally doesn't wear anything but will wear the assigned guard armor when needed.

Scars and/or Damages:

He has a decent-sized scar on the front of his waist and his fins are a bit torn. From a past storm that caused strong currents, And basically harshly pushed him into some sharp rocks.

One of his tooth's has been chipped a bit, from a fight he's gotten into with another merfolk. Which sort gave him the nickname Chip

Facial Features:

He has red scales going across his jawline and the bridge of his nose.

He has a skin condition called Vitiligo from his elbows down to his hands, and also his hair.

Height/ Weight/Body Type:

Height with tail: 5'8

Height with legs: 5'3 (smol boi)

weight/body type: he's fairly skinny but in a healthy way ;0 he weighs about 120lbs

Positive Traits/Strengths/and Talents:

At times Charles can be caring, though it's rare, he actually tries his best to be a good person towards the people he truly cares about. He can be very good at encouraging a person into doing something they think they can't do.

He may be a bit nagging at times, but he's only doing what he thinks will keep the people around him safe. He'd rather live life knowing that he is somewhat helping than risk losing someone because he didn't bother to do something.

Also he french boi, he speaks french ;)

Negative Traits/Weaknesses/Flaws/Fears:

Charles can get distracted VERY easily, either by something he's never seen before or by something shiny or reflective, (cause he likes looking at himself-) so it can be pretty frustrating trying to work with him. He can also be pretty selfish and manipulative at times doing things that he's not supposed to just because he wants to or to get some sort of reaction out of someone, and sometimes just ditch others completely when in a sticky situation.

Charles tends to be pretty oblivious of how serious certain consequences can be until it actually happens.

He pretends not to be afraid of anything, mostly cause he'd rather not believe that he is afraid of something. It's actually going anywhere near the surface and probably anything above the surface, but he could probably be easily persuaded into going up there by either bribing or peer pressure.

He also doesn't have the best eyesight, not being able to see things that are far away, though he pretends like nothing is wrong. also, the reason why he's so confident in his Looks is that he thinks it's the only "redeeming" quality he has left (oopsie poopsies, I made an angst)

Likes:

He has a fun time hunting for food and showing his skills to others. Having them praise him for what he's good at.

Sometimes he would lay down on the ocean floor and just look up at the sky because he enjoys looking at the ocean surface since it looks very pretty when light reflects off of the water.

He also tends to collect a lot of things he finds in the ocean that he thinks are beautiful such as shells, shiny rocks, sea glass, silverware, etc...

Despite being afraid of the surface he does take a liking to their literature, Architecture, paintings, culture, music, and so on.

Dislikes:

He doesn't like it when he makes a fool out of himself in front of someone even if it's not that big of a deal he would usually make a fuss about it for a few hours or days.. Or weeks, depending on how bad it was.

Charles usually gets furious when someone starts to doubt him and his decisions, so he lashes out a bit and tries to somehow prove his point.

He doesn't really like being touched by others he barely knows, it makes him feel very uncomfortable and sometimes if someone were to touch him unexpectedly they would probably get attacked out of instinct.

Charles doesn't really like to sing in front of other people, he actually kind of good at it, but he doesn't enjoy it

BACKSTORY:

Originally Charles lived in the Bay Of Biscay (basically right beside France) and life was pretty normal until he reached the age of 14. He was ot trying to hunt for his family, because he was a good child. until he came back to his home destroyed by a strong ass storm. Merfolk were dying, and he would've checked if his Family was alright, but the storm sort of forced him to stay away from all of the chaos. So really, he has no idea whether his Family is still alive or not.

Since his home was now basically dust, he had to find some place else to live in. Spending days just swimming aimlessly through the ocean, desperately trying to find at least someone he could rely on to give him directions. Eventually running into the kingdom that We all know. Of course since he originally came from an area of French people, he only knew how to speak french for a while. Though he slowly learned and eventually was able to speak fluent english.
