

Anne Nored has had dogs of varying breeds all her life but started getting involved in the “dog world” with her first basenji in 1998 and she spent the next 18 years involved in and a foster home for basenji rescue. During that time, she was introduced to lure coursing and flyball classes but her first competition dog came in the form of a Newfoundland in 2010. Both Lizzie and her second Newfoundland, Magic, introduced her to therapy, water rescue, draft, scent work, rally, and obedience both competing and earning titles. Her third Newfoundland, Flash, introduced her to the world of conformation. Flash was a top Newfoundland in 2018 and 2019 and while now showing only occasionally as a veteran, he is currently competing in working and performance events. She also has a retired Cavalier King Charles Spaniel and a new Clumber Spaniel puppy at home.

Anne has been teaching competition scent work classes at Charlotte Dog Training Club since 2017, and teaches rally, scent work, canine good citizen, and therapy dog classes at K9s Unleashed in Marvin, NC. She is a CGC, STAR Puppy, and Trick Dog evaluator. She has lived in a suburb of Charlotte, NC with her husband and 3 children since 2005 and works part time as a corporate attorney.
