Covid-19 contingency plan

XXth March 2020

OVERVIEW

The possibility of one or more housemates contracting Covid-19 is real and could happen at any time in the coming months. This document details our plans to support a safe and humane quarantine for those housemates.

GOALS

It is important that we do everything possible to avoid all getting sick at the same time. If any of us get sick we should expect to all stay at home until we can determine that we are no longer at risk of spreading the virus, and it will be important to have at least one person who can safely leave for supplies. It will also be way less shitty if at least one person doesn't feel terrible and is able to support sick folks.

QUARANTINE CONSIDERATIONS

A safe quarantine space should be comfortable and have a dedicated bathroom. Since we have an extra refrigerator it may make sense to move it into that space temporarily to allow sick folks to have access to food without interacting with healthy folks. We have extra water boilers and portable stoves and hot-pot heaters that we can use to make sick folks relatively self-reliant and reduce contact with others.

Ideally, the quarantine space should not require sick folks to cross paths with or use the same spaces as healthy folks doing household tasks like cooking, cleaning and laundry.

PLAN

1-2 sick

With 1-2 people sick the best quarantine space _____. Describe why this is the best space.

In the event that someone needs quarantine, we should clear as much of _____'s stuff as possible out of their room in order to make the space easier to sterilize. Depending on who is sick it may make sense to move beds in order to accommodate comfortable sleeping arrangements.

3-5 sick

With 3-5 people sick we should use _____ as quarantine spaces. In this case, depending on who is sick, we may need to make arrangements to have friends shop for us and leave food outside.

6 sick

I mean at this point let's just all play board games and be miserable together. We should stay in close contact with our outside support network.
