

Using Kinship Terms - Vernon Ashley - OSEU #4

Talking about the kinship system. You know, the Indian people had the greatest respect among themselves. Like my Uncle Vine Deloria Sr.. He was my uncle. He never called me by a name, so he said, "How tushka?" I'd say, "How? Dixie." Hello, my uncle. Hello, my nephew. That's. And those things carried through for years. And you never addressed them by person, but relative.
