Vampire Factions

- Gangel

Barbarians And Outcasts.

Kindred speak of a Beast deep within them, unseen, influencing their actions as they try to resist it. You have become one with yours. Your very being bears the fang, claws, fur, feather, or other feral marks of the Beast itself. Even in the old days your clan never cared for vampire politics, but participated as a matter of existence. The only end goal for all living things is survival and only the fittest achieve it.

- Malkvian

Lantics and Visionaries.

Mad they call us, unhinged they say, lunatics are we. But, they could not be more wrong. This is not Madness, this is understanding. There are patterns everywhere, we can see them, we understand them, but they are impossible to understand to those that have not seen. Ever since the beginning our clan has been connected through the Madness Network. We are like the cell towers for the unknown and our psyches are like sponges that absorb it all!

- Brujah

Punks and Rebels.

The Brujah are a clan of radical individuals and free thinkers, willing to put someone in their place if the situation calls for it. As the founder of the Anarch Revolution, you embody what it means to be a free spirit and have pledged yourself to make a better world for all kindred, not just those on top. A Brujah is guided by their passions, strength and dedication.

- The Thin Blooded

Chameleons and Mecurians.

You have been told you are not a real vampire, but it is also certain that you are no longer a human. Both sides seem to have disdain for your very existence, and it is clear that no one is truly with you. So you walk the middle ground, shamed and outcast as well as hunted. The city is under siege, the great vampires have started to fall but you survive. Humans are weak and compared to them you are strong. This is your opportunity to make something of yourselves rather than being in the gutter.

- Nosferatu

Horrors and Lepers.

As the spies and brokers for your kind for centuries, Clan Nosferatu are truly the foundation of the ivory tower, sometimes literally. When a nosferatu is Embraced they become horribly twisted and deformed and as such often hide away. Your clan invented a vast network of communication and information within the dark web known as SchrekNet, where the Nosferatu can easily cover up breaches, spy on enemies and watch the city.

- Toreador

Hedonists and Artists

You have a taste for the finer things in life: art, culture, talent, finery, and of course....Blood. You are a proud member of Clan Toreador known for your seductive nature, civil demeanor, and eloquent grace to the point of obsession. After all what is the point of an unlife if there is nothing to do?

- Tremere

Warlocks and Blood Witches

For house and clan you have pledged your service. You are part of Arcane Clan Tremere a Mage house who through clever machinations took the secrets of vampirism and perfected them creating a new form of magical blood sorcery called Thaumaturgy. For centuries you organized yourself in The Pyramid, a system where Tremere achieve their rank through their accolades and every member serves a greater purpose.

- Venture

Tyrants and Patricians.

Vampires have always been leading from the dark. In any government, war, or political upheaval you can be assured that a vampire is somewhere on the scene and usually that vampire is a member of the Clan of Kings. The Clan of Kings is not just a moniker, it is the truth of all who bear the title of Venture. You have been scouted for Clan Venture for the power, wealth, and influence you achieved while you were alive.

Human Factions

- The Arcanum

Seekers of Supernatural Knowledge.

There is far more than just this world, there are so many others than our own. This is a World of Darkness no doubt about that. A world full of vampires, demons wraiths, changelings, sprites and werewolves. While there are many faces of darkness, there is one true source of enlightenment, and it is not religious dogma or ethical pragmatism it is knowledge. You are a seeker of knowledge. You are an Arcanist of the Arcanum.

- Blood Cult

Thralls to Vampiric Masters.

There are two types of people in the world, Servants and Masters. Humans are the natural servants of a superior species, vampires. Everything about vampires is meant to invoke the image of control and dominance. Ghoul, retainer, blood junkie. There are many words to describe your kind. YOU have been allowed to be part of the natural order as a servant to the masters and in return have been given the gift, blood that makes you more than human.

- City Hall

Mayor and the Police

What is happening in your city? Reports of exsanguination, government agents amassing an army, people disappearing, religious fanatics crowding the streets and to top it all off you are getting no answers. Everything hit the fan not that long ago and now your city is a battleground. This much is clear if you do nothing the city will fall. Innocent people will die. You need to do something.

- Firstlight

Second Inquisition.

In official briefings they are called “blankbodies” due to their exceedingly low body temperature. This is done for a few reasons. The first being it classifies these entities as something that does invoke the image of Count Dracula and second they could be listening. Firstlight exists to eliminate this global security threat. It is an important mission and it must be carried out in secret.

- Street Gang

Dangerous Criminals

Drug running, robbery, kidnapping. YOU do what you need to survive. It is dangerous out on the streets, but it's the only life you've ever known. You ran these streets dealing with the true underworld of the city. Times are getting tough, people disappearing off the streets. Your numbers are dwindling and something must be done. No matter how strange things get you will not let anyone take away what you have worked so hard for.

- Society of St. Leopold

Ordained Vampire Hunters.

As ordained servants of the Vatican it is your holy duty to purge the world of the wicked and to protect humanity. Supernatural servants of the Adversary have preyed on HUMANITY for far too long. These monsters stand in opposition to the Lord deserve no quarter or mercy, and should be dispatched with absolute prejudice. Faith is a weapon to quell their advance.

- The Mob

Organized Crime Family

Everything is for La Famiglia. Ever since the Mob came to New York you have been running things from behind the scenes. Everyone owes you something and that is how you like it. Crooked cops, corrupt politicians, greedy owners, it's all part of the game. Your family knows everyone and puts the screws to them. Some kind of problem happened in New York recently. Some fool started a fight with the feds and everything is turning upside down. The city is a battleground but you know everyone and every part of this city this can only be an opportunity.

- Magadon Incorporated

Sinister Pharmaceutical Company

At Magadon we are committed to our motto “Building a Better You” through unique innovation, helpful staff, and committed professionals. Based on a deal for power made with an ancient entity our company grows in power the more we destroy mankind and the world on which they live. This was between Vampires and hunters is a profit opportunity.
