This whole storyline is fake, but does have relations to World Wars I and II. This, in the game, is known as the Best War. It is supposed to be the the next World War, or in the games case, World War III. Most of the side America fights with is people who fought with them in WWI and WWII. Battalion Wars: Continental Assult is a game of fun adventures, but is also made to make players see the reality of war. In a first- person shooter, it makes it easier for a player to se realities of war.

Slaughterbus
http://fantendo.wikia.com/wiki/Slaughterbus

"You, <insert name here>, are radical. You are the Slaughterbus. Defy the Spacethorities."
—Narrator

Slaughterbus: A Game About Designing Weaponized Buses That Slaughter Things, or just Slaughterbus, is a free-roam action game made by Fantasize Studios. The gameplay is simple- use a flying space bus to destroy a vast space city, and attach all sorts of weapons to said bus to better do the job, all while completing missions and hating on the Spacethorities.

Long ago, Earth exploded after Necronometal, the band of heavy metal robots, final tour ended. The survivors, lead by Necronometal, built a space society of floating buildings, including schools, which needed bus shuttles. However, over time, Necronometal lost its edge and became orderly, thus making them tight authority figures. As schools are being destroyed so that robots can become the dominant workers, one noble bus shuttle driver, named Juan Noble Driver, must pilot his bus shuttle and attach a plethora of weapons to it, in order to take down the Spacethorities.

…In Slaughterbus, you drive a bus-shuttle, the titular Slaughterbus, around a vast city floating in space. You can attack buildings, run into stuff, and just wreck havoc. To further this havoc, you can attach a variety of weapons to your bus, from buzzsaws to fists to robotic T-rex heads. You will also randomly receive missions, such as stopping the Spacethorities from ruining a metal concert. The city is yours for the taking, and you can do whatever you want. However, you must make sure your vehicle is radical enough, or else it will implode- to raise the radical levels, simply attach more weapons, paintjobs, and other things. Fail to do this within a 5-minute time period, and the bus will implode. You can buy additional weapons and customizations with Spacecreds, earned by completing missions or smashing into the bank.

M.A.I.L. MEN: Armed and Fabulous
http://fantendo.wikia.com/wiki/M.A.I.L._MEN:_Armed_and_Fabulous

WARNING: The following article contains sexual content that may not be appropriate for some readers. Reader discretion is advised. (And if you're offended, sucks to be you.)

The game begins at a lesbian bar at night with "Hema" a hot and busty transexual who is often mistaken for a real woman (a "trap"), trying to pick up some lesbians. "Hema" is really Hemu, a dravidian crossdresser who is part of the M.A.I.L. MEN, an elite group of mail-delivering super-spies. As he was about to get a particularly attractive lesbian to come home with him, Hemu is suddenly interrupted by a rogue M.I.L.K. MAN, a member of the M.A.I.L. MEN's constantly-warring rivals. He holds a chloroforme-soaked napkin up to Hemu's face, uses the famous pick-up line "Hey, babe, do you smell chloroforme?", and Hemu is instantly knocked out. He wakes up in the M.I.L.K. MEN's facility, which he ventures through with the help of the feminine contents of his purse. Hemu eventually calls his fellow M.A.I.L. MEN, who infiltrate the facility, pick him up, and take him back to base.

Playable Characters

- Hemu/"Hema" - A dravidian, transexual, crossdressing agent of the M.A.I.L. MEN who is often referred to as a "trap". Over the course of the game, he constantly picks up lesbians, who usually reject him upon learning his gender, and many men do end up raping him. He ends up with a nice bi chick at the end.
- Julius - A psychic necrophile who is in a complex relationship with the corpse of fellow M.A.I.L. MAN Hemu's mother. Extremely dangerous but is often considered useless.
- Trent - A heterosexual agent of the M.A.I.L. MEN who has mild OCD and an attractive girlfriend, the relationship of which is usually jeapordized by Trent's controversial relationship with the rest of the M.A.I.L. MEN. He also develops bisexuality and Pedophilia over the course of the game which at first cause more problems with his girlfriend, but in the end they get over it and end up living quite happily.

- Otto - A latino, metrosexual M.A.I.L. MEN agent who is arguably the most handsome of the group, as well as the most self-conscious.
- Victor - The suicidal latino second-in-command of the M.A.I.L. MEN who is often harassed by the other members, possibly causing his depression.
- Blade - The Child(and everything else) murderer, who hates happiness and is often the reason for many unnecessary wars. Compared to the others he's one of the normal ones

Other Characters

- The Leader Dude - some dude who's controversial and leads the M.A.I.L. MEN. Is armed and fabulous. He is quite badass but he's also mysterious and stuff.
- M.I.L.K. MEN Grunts - Evil shock troops of the M.I.L.K. MEN. Raped Hema and some other people. Like milk alot, like alot.
- The Muffin Man - He is a campy and always happy muffin man who lives on dreary lane, dreary town, where everything is boring. His parents made the gingerbread man, who was his best friend until he was chased out of town and killed by an alligator. He is very depressed in reality but takes alot of morphine, overdosing almost 300 times, and often spikes his pastries with morphine and other such drugs that make you happy.
- The Gingerbread Man - The zombie pastry who haunts the dreary swamps. In reality was the adopted brother of the Muffin Man and is now a rogue alligator hunter who is quite badass, and has replaced all his lost limbs with robotic-pastry making tools which are excellent for combat. He misses the muffin man but doesn't leave the swamp due to the fact that he is shunned from dreary town, and takes his revenge on trespassers in dreary swamp.

The Creator of Life
http://fantendo.wikia.com/wiki/Creator_of_Life

The game takes all of the things that made SimCity so great and expands on them. Instead of just creating a single city, you can create an ENTIRE world. First you have to create the planet, give it water, carve the terrain, and place oxygen into it. As the game goes on, you can fill the planet with life. You can choose what kind of life fills it. It could be a made-up species, or it could be a planet with humans. It can also be a planet inhabited entirely by animals. Watch as the creatures do cool things. Humans for example, will build large cities where they can (depending on the terrain). Watch as their cities grow, and watch them go to their jobs, drive in cars, and watch buildings be constructed. Animals, on the other hand, are also just as fun to watch. Watch as lions go after gazelle to eat them. You can also determine a certain creature's fate, like in The Sims 3. You can choose when a person will get married, have kids, and you can also choose how they die, or when they are born. The graphics are so lifelike, like in Cities XL. You can save up to 20 planets in one Solar System file. Watch as the human civilization evolves and thrives. Watch animals mate and have children. It's just a really cool game. And if you get bored, you can also use Simcity's signature disaster mode, where you can summon a disaster of your choice to come in and destroy a city or cause terror in animal's homes. There are 15 disasters: Giant Monsters, Tornadoes, Earthquakes, Tsunamis, Terrorists, Meteor Showers, and firestorms. You can also choose a person's traits and personality, which will determine their outcome.

Catlaidiez
http://fantendo.wikia.com/wiki/Catlaidiez

Catlaidiez is a 2005 action-adventure video game by SEGA and Muffin Pot Productions for the Game Boy Advance. The game revolves around four cat girls who fight for their homeland, the island of Catzzanova in Animalia. The island is constantly threatened by the evil Sir Tofeiroth. The game became popular with the "furry" community on the internet and sold well for a Western-made video game. Two sequels were later released for the GBA, with more following on later Nintendo systems.
The game was created by Mag Irasuki (characters, art and story) and Joseph Brian (programming).…

Weapons/Power-Ups

Magic - Depends on the character.

- Fish - Helps the Catlaidiez regain health when hurt.
- Apples- Works like the Starman in the Super Mario Bros franchise, briefly making a Catlaidy invincible.
- Pumps - The pumps can inflate an enemy until they get hurt.
- H-Tablet - Works like a P-Balloon in Super Mario World, temporarily inflating a Catlaidy to make them reach higher areas. H stands for "Helium".

…Within two days of its release, the game provoked controversy from various Christian organizations due to the protagonists' use of magic, especially criticizing the character Angelina. Another criticism was the occasional (but non-sensual) nudity of the characters (remember, they are cartoon characters and they are not actually offensive when nude), though they usually wear outfits in the game.
Many outraged parents (especially Christian parents) complained of the game's aforementioned nudity since it is a children's video game, but Mag Irasuki refused to edit it, as it is not in a sexual context.

After Landing, Gadget is apparently destroyed after going into the cosmos. Adam then looks down and then screams "NOOOOO!!!!!" (For comedic sake Echizen said) Adam is then walking with the princess down the beach and a cosmic whole opens and Gromple and Gadget fall out. Adam then is about to chase gromple when the princess stops him saying they can catch him later. Adam then sees Gadget and Gadget opens its eyes and sees Adam. Gadget Exclaims "Neeto!" And Duke then walks up to the princess and Adam and Ask if they are redy for there vacation. The Adam then takes the princess's hand and Walks with Duke. During the credits, It shows Adam and the princess vacationing. Then at the end of the credits, it shows gromple telling his minions to keep rowing as he proclaims he has a new plan. If the player gets all of the requirements, They receive a costume for Adam, if not a cenima is shown showing darkness come and terrorize the Resort on the island.

Development started shortly after the development of Legend Heroes, Though, Adam's Tropical Vacation would be shown to the gamers first During an interview, Echizen states that there were meny ideas for a sequal, but the feel they were going for was allread established by Legend team. Echizen also points out that there was originally going to be a floating aumlet which would bug Adam to the end of the game. And at the end he would be broken by Adam. But Echizen said that it would be annoying for the aumlet to follow you saying gibberish, So instead, they made Gadget take the roll after a vote was held by the team. And Gadget would remain on your back instead of staying infront of you.

American Dream was supposed to be like Legend Kart Gameplay, But Echizen said that it would be "to fast and cluncky" To do that.

NHL Clash
http://fantendo.wikia.com/wiki/NHL_Clash

NHL Clash is a Hockey game for the Nintendo Wii made by Lemmykoopa24 (Talk). What makes it so special from other NHL video games is that each team will be able to pull off a unique, almost magical shot on the goal. It is played with the Wii Remote & Nunchuk.

The gameplay is like that of NHL Slapshot, except that when every player receives the puck, they will be able to pull off a shot that would literally be impossible to do in real hockey.

Los Angeles Kings

- Special Shot - Diamond Slapshot - The puck gets covered in hard diamonds and crystals, then Dustin Brown takes a powerful slapshot on goal. The goalie's gloves cannot save this. Only his pads can.

Philidelphia Flyers - Special Shot - Fighter Shot - Mike Richards jumps into the air and a fighter jet forms around him. Then the fighter flies to the goal and fires the puck like a missile towards the net. This is one of the best shots in the game.

Montreal Canadiens

- Special Shot - Hockey Spirit - Brian Gionta crackles with red lightning, then zips towards the net at light speed and fires it towards the net.

Ottawa Senators

- Special Shot - Gladiator Wristshot - Daniel Alfredson gets on a horse, grabs the puck, then the horse runs towards the net and Alfredson launches the puck at the net with a powerful wristshot.

Toronto Maple Leafs

- Special Shot - Tree Vault - Dion Phaneuf and the puck get launched into the air by a tree, then Phaneuf takes a strong shot on the net while in midair.
