

Dear CLAUDIA WANG

I am Yahya Azzouni a digital marketing specialist. My skills are not those of a normal copywriter or freelancer. I don't get paid to write a certain amount of words. I get paid on how well I helped my client. That is why I mostly get paid the percentage of how much I increase their revenue. So if I don't do a good job in increasing my client's sales and success then I won't get paid. That's why I am 90% risk-free. I always charge 5-10% upfront but if for any reason my client didn't like my work I would always give a refund. I try my best to help out my client the best I can, so that way I have a lifetime business partner and also so he can have a very high standard of business.

Best regards,
Yahya Azzouni Digital Marketing Specialist
