

Banana Boats: Have you ever been eating a banana split and wished that it was also a s'more? Well then do we have a treat for you very specific people. Banana boats are a delicious creation consisting of banana, marshmallow, and chocolate cooked and combined into a decadent molten masterpiece.

Ingredients:

- Banana, marshmallow, and Hershey's Chocolate

Preparation:

- First things first, you're gonna want to slice your banana from tip to tip unpeeled
- Once it's cut open, you will want to stuff that banana full of chocolate and marshmallows.
- When the banana is properly stuffed, you will want to wrap it in, you guessed it, aluminum foil.
- Just like the foil pack, banana boats are typically cooked over an open fire, but can be of course cooked in the oven.
- Over the fire, the banana boat will take about 15-25 minutes to properly cook.
- In the oven at 350, they will take about 10-20 minutes.
- When the mallows are overflowing and the chocolate is melted, your boat will be ready to eat in all of its glory.
