

Woodside Home & School Board Meeting

November 6, 2022 6:30PM – Jeanne Hasenstab's house

In Attendance: Julie Fromm, Heather Rechlin, Jeanne Hasenstab, Valerie Emrich

Appearing via Zoom: Ashlie Schaffner

*Trunk or Treat (10/14) went overall very well, despite the bad weather. Committee learned a lot and plans to bring the event back next year. Almost all feedback was positive. The hardest part of this event is that it needs a lot of volunteers to make sure it runs smoothly. It is possible some people didn't know that they could attend the event even though they weren't decorating a trunk. Perhaps that is something we can make sure to clarify next year since Trunk or Treat is a new idea in the community.

*Bucks Game (11/5) - 64 tickets sold (which means we should receive a check for roughly $320). Feedback was positive. After the game, Woodside families were able to go on the court and take a group photo. Mrs. O'Connell has the photo. The rep we worked with was a little difficult, communication wasn't great, the website link didn't always work, etc. Not sure there's much we can do to change that next year, but something to keep in mind. Melissa Gluth plans to remain Nights Out coordinator. We should get a check for *Fun Run prizes were divided up and distributed last week. All went well with that so that closes out our Fun Run responsibilities for this year.

*Spirit Wear Sale – going on now through 11/13. It was mentioned that there aren't a lot of Woodside colors in the current clothing offerings with the new provider. We will explore that being an option next time. This is a good compliment to the Burghardt sale in that it's a new variety of clothes offered. It is likely we will continue with Burghardt for one sale per year (fall?) and the new company (Olive Promotions) once per year as well (winter?).

*Culver's Nights Out – this week 11/8 and 11/9. Printed coupons will be going home with students and Scoopie will be coming for drop-off on both days to remind families of the night out and to hand out coupons. Julie is making the stake sign and will have it out prior to 11/8. We need a Seesaw blast to advertise this as well. Julie will email the office to request Seesaw blast.

*Book Fair – all is going well getting ready for the Book Fair which starts later this week (11/10). We still need a lot of volunteers so we will see if we can get a Seesaw blast out for this event, as well.

*Scripts – Heather is working on getting the website up and running this week. This sale will go from 11/10 - 11/17 or 11/18.

*We will reach out to see if we can collect Amazon wishlist links for the teachers and put them in our H&S newsletter.

*Hoping to finalize the gaga ball pit order this week. Lack of communication from some of the companies we were requesting quotes from slowed this process down. We are planning to move forward with the purchase of 2 gaga ball pits and delivery should happen 2-3 weeks after order. We will need people at the school to help unload the trucks and set up the pits. Materials will be heavy.

*Artist in residence is still undetermined but hoping to have one this school year.

*All school read books were ordered and should be delivered to the school.

*Teachers are thrilled with the rugs that have come in so far. Teachers that did not order rugs are putting together what they would like in place of rugs. Melissa is putting together a spreadsheet to send to us of what those items will be.

*Next public meeting tentatively 12/12 at 6:00. Will email Melissa to see if that date works for her and then we'll start planning the agenda.

*Next board meeting 12/4, 6:30PM at Julie's house.
