

Wellesley College Department of Psychology – Visiting Lecturer in Sensation and Perception

The Department of Psychology at Wellesley College seeks to fill a position for a visiting lecturer in Fall 2022 to teach either a course in sensation and perception or a seminar in neuropsychology/cognition. Qualified individuals should send a CV and a cover letter describing teaching experience to Margaret Keane, Chair of the Psychology Department, Wellesley College (mkeane@wellesley.edu).

Wellesley College is an Equal Opportunity Employer, and we are committed to increasing the diversity of the college community and the curriculum. Wellesley College and all its subcontractors shall abide by the requirements of 41 CFR 60-1.4(a), 60-300.5(a) and 60-741.5(a). These regulations prohibit discrimination against qualified individuals based on their status as protected veterans or individuals with disabilities, and prohibit discrimination against all individuals based on their race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or national origin. Moreover, these regulations require that Wellesley College and all of its subcontractors take affirmative action to employ and advance in employment individuals without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or veteran status. Candidates who believe they can contribute to that goal are encouraged to apply.
