SL: Sharing is caring, Dan

Hi Dan,

I thought I'd share an AI agent to help you with time and budget. (EatWell Meal Kits)

Time: You can use an AI agent on your website and Instagram DMs to answer most customer questions, such as tracking deliveries, and making things smoother for everyone.

Lower Expenses: Since the AI can handle most inquiries, you will not need as many people for customer support, which helps reduce overhead without affecting the quality of service.

Complete Information: The AI will know about your meal kits—recipes, ingredients, and even your company's story—so it's always ready to assist with whatever a customer might ask.

Personalized Suggestions: If a customer enjoys a particular recipe, the AI can recommend similar ones that match their taste, making their experience even better.

Many companies in your category are using AI agents like "HomeChef" and "Cook."

Would you like to implement these AI solutions in your business to improve customer support?

Cheers,
Mohammed
