

Design Weakness:

I believe that our design weaknesses are the steering in the new rover, and because of the small size, the drive train, which had to be so enclosed in a small space. I believe that things will break on the course, but that we will be able to fix the problems.