3 SBG Core Elections

3.1 Elected Officials

The SBG Core Elections are conducted to elect officials to the SBG Core Committee. The SBG Core Committee consists of the following four posts -

- SBG Convener
- SBG Deputy Convener
- SBG Treasurer
- SBG Secretary

3.2 Election Format

1. SBG Core Elections by nature, are indirect elections.
2. Only those students who are a part of committees are allowed to vote during the SBG Core Elections.
3. Unless specified, the SBG Core Elections are not closed and hence all students can attend the event if they wish to as spectators.

4. Any and every elected member of the SBG is eligible to contest for a post in the SBG Core.
5. A candidate is not allowed to contest for more than one post(s) in the SBG Core Committee.
6. In the event that an SBG Core Committee post remains uncontested, re-elections must be conducted. The EC may refer the case to the Dean(Students) if it feels the need to do so.

3.3 Election Process

1. The SBG Core Elections take place in close succession to the General Elections, preferably on the same day.
2. Under no circumstances should there be a gap of duration greater than 24 working hours between the announcement of results of the General Elections and the commencement of the SBG Core Elections.
3. Elections for all the four posts are to be conducted sequentially starting with the elections for the post of the SBG Secretary, followed by the elections for the post of the SBG Treasurer, SBG Deputy Convener and concluded by the elections for the post of the SBG Convener.
4. The SBG Core Elections closely mirrors the process of the General Election, albeit condensed to a short span of time.
5. The Election process to elect a member of the SBG Core Committee begins with a short address given by the current office bearers. The address must highlight the major roles and responsibilities of holding that particular office. Additionally, it may also shed light upon the challenges faced in during the past tenure, qualities expected in an ideal office bearer and initiatives that are expected to be taken up by the next office bearer.
6. The address is followed by a short window of nomination. Any eligible candidate can nominate himself/herself by a simple show of hand.
7. After the closing of the nomination window, all the candidates are given dedicated individual floor time. In this duration, they are expected to formally introduce themselves to the voters and state their reasons and/or motives behind contesting for this particular post of the SBG Core Committee. In addition, they may also highlight previous work experience, past incidents, character qualities that make them a perfect fit to hold that particular office and initiatives that they plan to take up in the coming tenure, if elected.
8. After the completion of the floor time dedicated to the candidates, all other students who are present can ask the candidates questions with regard to their previous work experience, initiatives and opinions on matters that might come up for discussion during their tenure.
9. Once the above procedure has been completed for all four posts of the SBG

Core Committee, the voting members of the SBG will vote for all four posts. The voting will take place via Secret Ballot.

10. The Evaluation of the result is to be conducted using the same method used in the General Elections, but in addition to ordinary preferences, each voter can cast a None Of The Above (NOTA) vote for a particular post if he/she feels that none of the contesting candidate(s) should hold the post.
11. In the event that result is in the favor of NOTA (tie or majority votes in favor of NOTA), re-elections shall be conducted within 36 working hours of declaration of the result.
12. The re-election process will be the same as the core election process, including the provision of NOTA. Candidates from the previous election remain eligible to participate. If the result remains in favor of NOTA even in the re-election, the seat will no longer be subject to further elections, and the Dean(Students) will assume the responsibility for selecting a candidate.

4 Autumn Semester Elections for Masters and Ph.D. Batches

The following guidelines are applicable only to the elections which take place in the autumn semester to elect first year MSc/MTech/Ph.D. representatives to the committees -

1. The number of seats open for elections are as specified in the seat matrix specified in the SBG Constitution.
2. Any SBG member that is elected through the autumn semester election process shall be entitled to the same voting rights, and have equal say as any other elected SBG member in future events.
3. The dates of the Elections shall be decided solely by the EC, with suggestion from the concerned committees.
4. The election process will mirror the process of the General Election.
5. The Code Of Conduct shall be in effect for students of the concerned batches from the day the election nominations are declared open, until the announcements of results.
6. The tenure of members elected through these elections shall be:
 - For the SPC - 1.5 years
 - For all other committees – 1 year

5 By-Elections

By-Elections are to be conducted elections in the event when the incumbent resigns, is impeached or becomes ineligible to continue in office for any reason. The following guidelines are with regard to these situations only.

1. Under no circumstances can a by-election be conducted before the EC receives a resignation letter under the hand of the incumbent or intimation from the SBG Core regarding the impeachment or ineligibility to continue to hold office.
2. The decision of whether or not elections must take place to fill the vacant seat is to be taken by the EC, with suggestion from the SBG Core.
3. In the case that by-elections are to be conducted, the announcement for the same should be sent at least 24 working hours before and not more than 48 hours before the by-election process commences.
4. The Election Process for the By-Election is identical to that of the election for the post of a SBG Core Committee Member.
5. A Quorum of 75% of the voting members of the SBG is required for by-elections to be conducted.

6 Voting System

6.1 Preferential Voting

The voting system that we follow is that of a SINGLE TRANSFERABLE VOTE in which if the voter's first choice gets eliminated, the vote gets transferred to the next competing candidate according to voter's stated order of preference.

6.2 Evaluation Algorithm

Let the number of seats for a committee be n and the total number of candidates contesting for these n positions be x . Each voter will be allowed to give $\max(2, \min(x-n-1, 6))$ preferences, specifying the order of preference among the candidates voted for. Evaluation of results will be done as follows:

All the x candidates are under consideration at the beginning of the evaluation. The evaluation process is iterative in nature, and each iteration removes one candidate from consideration effectively reducing the number of candidates by one. This iterative loop continues till there are only n candidates remaining, who are then declared to be winners and go on to fill the n committee positions.

To decide the candidate which will be removed from consideration, a count of the most significant preference of votes is taken, the candidate receiving the least number of votes is the one who is removed from consideration. In the event that two candidates share the same number of votes,

Tie-breakers are implemented as discussed in the next section.

Once a certain candidate is taken out of consideration, the subsequent preferences of his votes are redistributed among other candidates contesting in the process for the next iteration. This step helps represent everyone's opinion in the selection process.

6.3 Tie-Breakers

In case of tie between two or more candidates:

1. Counting cross-preferences: Look at just the next preference of those tied candidates and distribute those votes among tied candidates only. The one with the least number of cross preference votes, gets eliminated.
2. After the cross preferential votes are taken into consideration, if the tie still persists, then
 - (a) If they are from different batches, then seniority shall be taken into consideration. The junior-most candidate gets eliminated. A student is considered senior to another on the basis of time spent at the institute.
 - (b) If all candidates are of equal seniority, the one with the lowest CPI gets eliminated.
 - (c) If the tie still persists after the above clause, then one of the candidates shall be eliminated using the process of random selection.

6.4 Voting Method

1. The voting for the General Elections will be carried out via the e-voting software. As an exception to this, in some cases, such as the HMC Elections where the number of votes per post are low, a paper-based secret ballot process may be used.
2. The voting for the Autumn Semester M.Sc Elections will take place via e-voting only.
3. The voting for all other elections (SBG Core, By-Elections, etc.) will take place via Secret Ballot only, unless stated differently beforehand.

7 Code Of Conduct

This Code of Conduct is a collection of some expected behaviors and restrictions that must be followed by all candidates standing in the elections. Violation of these norms will attract punitive actions from the election officers ranging from cancellation of candidature to prohibition from participating in future elections.

1. No candidate shall indulge in any activity which may aggravate or create mutual hatred or cause tension between different castes and communities religious, linguistic, etc.
2. Criticism of other candidates, when made, shall be confined to their policies and programs. Candidates shall refrain from criticism of all aspects of private life, not connected with public activities. Criticism of other candidates based on unverified allegations or distortion must be avoided.
3. There shall be no appeal to caste, regional and communal feelings for securing votes. Lecture theatres, OAT or any other place on the college campus shall not be used as a forum for election propaganda. No rallies and public meetings shall be held. A proper platform for putting a candidate's uniqueness will be provided by the election commission.
4. All candidates must scrupulously avoid all activities which are "corrupt practices", such as bribing of voters, intimidation of voters, impersonation of voters. Candidates are asked not to arrange any parties or treats as long as the code of conduct is in effect.
5. The right of every individual for peaceful and undisturbed personal-life shall be respected, however much the candidates may resent that individual's opinions or activities.
6. No candidate shall permit himself/herself or his/her supporters to make use of any college building, compound wall etc., for suspending banners, pasting notices, writing slogans etc.
7. Candidates shall ensure that their supporters do not indulge in any kind of fights with the other candidates and their supporters.
8. Use of electronic mail/broadcasts for election propaganda is strictly prohibited. Use of any form of technology to cross question the voter regarding their preference of voting and indulging in any kind of vote barter is strictly prohibited.
9. Any notification or announcement for cultural and sports events or monetary distributions (including reimbursements) and thanksgiving ceremonies must not be scheduled while code of conduct is in effect.
10. Election or your candidature cannot be given as an excuse to miss classes, lectures or labs.
11. No candidate or voter shall indulge in any official campaigning during the 24 hours prior to the commencement of polling.

Note: EC can enforce the code of conduct (partially or as a whole) any time near the commencement of the election, with Dean(Students)'s approval. It should be communicated to the student community via official channels. Action against violation of code of conduct during partial enforcement of code of conduct is at the discretion of EC.

6. An HOR referendum shall be considered valid if and only if more than two-thirds of the total strength of the hostel cast their vote.

2. In pursuit of its duties, the Grievance Committee may take action against violators of any aspect of the Code Of Conduct or the rulings of the Grievance Committee.
3. All complaints regarding the election should be submitted to the Grievances Committee (by writing to the EC) within 24 hours of the declaration of the results.
4. Any complaints with regard to the events taking place during the course of the General Elections, prior to the Polling day, must be submitted as promptly as possible to the Grievance Committee. (by writing to the EC)
5. In the event that a complaint is to be submitted against the EC, it must be addressed to the Dean (Students) and a copy must be sent to the EC.

6. Members of the Grievance cell are prohibited from filing complaints.

 - The complaint was not filed within the time frame prescribed above.
 - The complaint fails to state a cause of action for which relief may be granted.
 - If a complaint is not dismissed, then a hearing must be held. The Grievance Committee shall inform, in writing, or via e-mail, the complaining party and all individuals or groups named in the complaint of the time and place of the hearing.
