Strengths: 1. Belief: The main thing that drives Ashley to succeed is her belief in herself. Call it stubbornness, call it ego, but since 2019 Ashley Cross has had a firm belief in her abilities and her skills. It's nigh-impossible to shake this belief, meaning mind games and attempts to rattle her are tougher than one might expect. 2. It's Called Improv: "Everybody has a game plan until they get punched in the mouth." That's been drilled into Ash over and over during training, prompting her to learn how to adapt. It's not that she doesn't have a game plan; rather, she's prepared to switch should her strategy not work or if the opponent starts to pick up on her tactics.	Weaknesses: 1. Arrogance: She said she would win the Rose City Grand Prix, and she did. She said she would become the ninth Queen of Roses, and she did. This relentless self belief has made her confident to the point of arrogance, believing that she can take nearly anyone down. Naturally, she's prone to underestimating her opponents as a result. 2. An Island Unto Herself: This self belief has led to her driving away many who could be sympathetic, leaving her with very few connections in wrestling. She often finds herself alone in a company, either unwilling or unable to find allies and leaving her isolated. 3. Hot Headed: Her drive to prove herself has left Ashley with a massive chip on her shoulder. This anger often allows opponents to get back into the match, costing her the advantage.

3. The Ground Game: Her training at Limitless gave her a solid ground game already, but training with Catch Sports Pro has added a new dimension to her moveset. Finnegan Wakefield's teachings have helped her focus her aggression, teaching her how to more effectively break her opponent down.

(She is currently working on this, but it remains her big Achilles Heel)

Biography:

Part of the Cross Family (Marilyn Lee and Elijah). Trained under Michael Hayden and the Limitless Wrestling Academy, graduating as part of the second class. Graduated alongside Spectre, Romeo Black, and BATTLEBORN (James Price and Angel Torres). Started with Limitless before branching out to Rose City and Sakura Pro.

Teamed with her sister as Sign of the Cross, winning the Sakura Pro Tag Team Titles. Would occasionally team with Marilyn in Rose City, though would more often be in the opening matches. Sided with Izzy Van Doren during her blow up with Stacy Deville, furthering that tension after the breakup of Marilyn and Lena Skye. The Cross Sisters would take a hiatus from Rose City, venturing back to Limitless and the independents.

Returned to Rose City, now carrying a chip on her shoulder. She began to speak up against former champions, claiming they weren't worthy of being seen as legends. This would culminate in the annual Queen of Roses tournament, where she won and became the Ninth Queen. She would defend her title until Rose City went into hiatus shortly after announcing Ashley vs. Izzy Van Doren.

She has tried venturing elsewhere, competing short term for IHYWF and picking up spot shows. After an extended leave after Rose

Championships and Accomplishments:

- Sakura Pro USA Tag Team Champion (1x w/ Marilyn Lee Cross)
- 2020 Rose City Grand Prix Winner
- Rose City Wrestling Queen of Roses

City’s hiatus, she now ventured outside, looking to prove her success is not limited to one company. Further training from Finnegan Wakefield and Catch Sports Pro has made her more dangerous, something she brings to every match. Outside of the ring, she remains a private individual. Not much is known about her life beyond wrestling, save for her relationship with Spectre in high school.
