

High School Math SAT Prep Course Now Available!

The SAT is quickly approaching. Are you ready?

Prince George's County Public Schools is excited to announce that we've teamed up with Carnegie Learning to provide our students with additional instruction support available online. All at no cost to parents/families! Our data shows when students regularly attend Carnegie Learning's tutoring sessions, they show greater success in the targeted area than students who did not regularly attend!

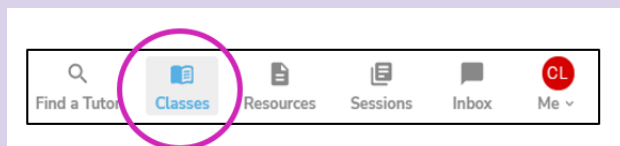

During the ten-week program, students, working in groups of up to 4, will participate in two 30-minute sessions each week. With the support of a Carnegie Learning tutor, students will review and practice concepts addressed on the exam such as: Heart of Algebra, Problem Solving and Data analysis, Advance Math as well as additional topics in math, including Geometry and Trigonometry.

Online Math Tutoring Details:

- Students attend 2 sessions per week for 10 weeks:
