

Dana Prom Smith Remembrance

On Sunday, Jun 28th, Dana Prom Smith passed away from a heart attack at the age of 88. Dana was a longtime supporter of the Master Gardener program and association. He was certified as a master gardener in 2007. He worked on his own garden at home, and since then has shared his wealth of knowledge and creative writing skills to write and edit weekly columns for the AZ Daily Sun -Gardening Etcetera. We will miss learning more about life and gardening and the humor with which he presented it. On August 24th, a Blaze Maple was planted at Olivia White Hospice Garden by his gardening friends in remembrance. “ If you have a garden and a library, you have everything you need.” Marcus Tullius Cicero
