IMPORTANT NOTE ON PAPER SUBMISSION AND DISCUSSANT ROLE

The RC19 conference will be organized according to „Korpi's rules". Walter Korpi, past president of RC19, instituted a workshop-style meeting format to foster lively discussions during the conference. This format includes:

a) full PAPERS are accessible and should be read in advance by all participants of the respective panel;
b) at the conference they are introduced shortly and commented by a DISCUSSANT (10 minutes) who will be designated by the conference organizers;
c) the AUTHOR is given only limited time to react to the discussant's presentation (3 minutes) so as to leave more room for a general discussion (about 15 minutes).

Thus, this conference format requires that full papers are accessible for participants and discussants in advance. The deadline for paper submission has already passed, thank you if you have already done so (papers marked  are already uploaded as of 19/08/2019; papers marked @ still need to be submitted!).

We ask those participants, who have not yet submitted their full paper (Word or PDF), to SUBMIT their paper via the conference website as quickly as possible, but please also send a copy via email to the discussant.

The papers will only be accessible for participants of the conference. Please submit your paper via the following web link:

SUBMIT/UPLOAD: https://www.uni-bielefeld.de/soz/rc19annualconference/papers.html

(Note it might take several days until it will appear in the folder since this will be done individually!)

PRE-CONFERENCE EVENT –

Tuesday, 27 August 2019 19.00-20.00

Social Politics 25 Years: Looking Back and Looking Forward

Unrealized Utopias, Real Dystopias and Pathways toward an Inclusive Feminist Social Politics

Moderator: Ito Peng;
Participants: Barbara Hobson, Aleksandra Kanjuo Mrčela, Ann Orloff, Shirin Rai.

MZES Conference Room (2nd floor), Mannheim Centre for European Social Research (MZES), University of Mannheim, A5,6, 68159 Mannheim, Germany.

Format: "Davos style": Ito Peng will pose questions and guide an informal conversation among panel participants, who are editors and editors emeritae/founders of Social Politics: International Studies in Gender, State and Society, published by Oxford University Press

Feminists across the globe face the fact of unrealized utopias and political ideals denied. Real dystopias reflect the current threat to gender equality and gender research with the rise of populist right regimes and the spread of anti-feminist backlash within many states. Around what ideals can we mobilize progressive counter-movements? We have critiqued various utopian visions that had in the past failed to confront complex inequalities, a matter made more urgent by the development of new and intensified forms of inequality. Pathways toward an inclusive feminist social politics addresses how we might envision feminist welfare states and mobilize politically to achieve them. We take inspiration from grass-roots mobilization around issues ranging from #Me Too to climate action and the defence of reproductive rights and from the movement of feminists (both women and men) into politics and governance institutions at the local, national and trans-national level.

All RC19 participants are welcome to attend, no registration needed.
