

Developing and executing 'C' programs – (By using one dimensional array)

1. Write a C program to read last year rain forecast and find minimum, maximum rain fall and total and average rain fall.
2. Write a C program to display the highest and lowest number in an given array